One struggle! One victory! The brotherhood, Europe and the White world joined forces this September to pay homage to our fallen brother. Despite a concerted operation to stop the ISD, we prevailed, our Nationalist pride, Aryan perseverance and skinhead spirit overcame, the Triumph of the Will against the powers of ZOG!

The tenth anniversary ISD, was an unqualified success, bands were barred, as were many comrades by the powers to be, but just over 1000 freedom fighters still managed to breakthrough and enjoy a weekend of celebrations, political seminars, meetings and elite music of the resistance, our chain was further strengthened!

In what is a new record, our final venue was the fourth back up! Considering two of the compromised venues were known only to the individuals who booked them, goes to show the lengths our opposition went to prevent us, the fact we still came through is a credit to the National gig organiser, the B&H stewards who gallantly gave their services, before and long after everyone else had left, and the B&H Hearnor connection who secured the venue and campsite, our heartfelt thanks are in order once again. Twelve months planning went into this concert, and much was still learned, to quote the National Organiser. "Next year will be even better with these lessons put into practice!"

Memorials to Ian Stuart were held all over Europe in the months of September and October, our British bands represented us at all, and in another showing of our network all official gigs were coordinated not to clash with another Divisions. Many meetings of the Brotherhood were held and a Pan-European strategy is now being formulated.

Blood & Honour has continued making ground, in almost every direction, whether due to the success of the Memorial there has been an abundance of concerts since September, and Divisions are literally fighting to book unsecured dates well into 2004 all ready! Issue 27 sold out! Great Britain finally has an honourable label for home grown bands, with which we can use our bands talent to channel something back into our scene enabling us to push further forward. All in all 2003 has been a good year for B&H, we have now built and consolidated a firm base of operations, from which to build upon. 2004...you aint seen nothing yet. We have a concerted musical attack prepared, the onslaught will continue at the renewed pace.

Thanks to the many new contributors now working on the mag, many have heeded the call and pitched in from all over Europe, there is still room for more personnel in every theatre of our operations, so don't become complacent, don't sit back and let someone else do it all when you could be lightening the load and making things even better!

Politically our Motherland has continued with its resurgent pride, in elections and general manifestations of nationalist pride our peoples are slowly waking up. Election results continue putting Nationalist parties in positions of opposition to the tried and trusted old guard parties, who have failed us. 2004 gives us the biggest opportunity yet, in the June elections, to put our people in places of real representation at home and in Europe, all the main Nationalist opposition groups are fighting seats, so get out there and do something, support the parties of freedom, all who attend our activities have seen B&H leading the way with contributions to the parties, now for all our sakes get out there and help individually in any way you can.

The immediate future looks bright and for once the destiny of our Nation could really be steered by our actions, lets not let it slip by without doing our utmost.

God is with us! Good luck in 2004! For Ian Stuart!

For our Yesterdays, Todays & Tomorrows.

Warhammer

After two successful gigs and with many more to come, B&H welcomes the boys from the North East home and into the ranks of the musical resistance called Blood & Honour!

1) Greetings, please could you give the Brotherhood, the history and current line up of Warhammer? We started back in 1996 as Nordic Warriors but that line up and band did not last for long so we had a new line up and changed the name of the group to Warhammer, as it suited our style of music. Due to legal reasons we cannot go into the ins and outs of our first cd. Which is a real shame or the line up at the time. The new and current line up is Rod – vocals, Frazer – lead, Chris – bass, Dodge – rhythm and Sticks – drums.

2) You have just released your second full length cd, could you please give us a run down on it, are you pleased with the final result, and do you think it is a fair representation of your sound and approach? We are all very pleased with our second cd. The production is really good and the artwork and layout is second to none. Unfortunately this cd took two years to press due to certain set backs so the material on it is quite dated. Our musical style is going to be somewhat different on the third cd, which we are working on at the moment and we are going to put a mixture of rock oil! Hardcore, ballads, etc into number three this time.

3) Warhammer has attracted more than its fair share of media interest in the past, have the lefties abated or has the media witch hunt continued? We have attracted media attention in the past. A few years ago we made headlines for weeks in our local red rag the "Evening Chronicle", things have been quiet for a few years but then again so have we, so no doubt, we will start to get more unwanted coverage again.

4) After a few years inactivity what made you take up the musical sword and rejoin the brotherhood? We restarted the band again because basically we didn't have the musicians before as some dropped out or became ill and now we wish to go ahead again with our beliefs and music with a new line up.

5) The North of England is currently leading the way with the rise of Nationalism, but Newcastle is known as a stronghold for lefty toe rags and their suicidal policies, is this true? The North of England is becoming a leading light in the country for Nationalism; in the County Durham pit villages especially it has become more prominent due to the current climate with all the problems with foreigners and asylum seekers. Lots of people are now turning to Nationalist parties and it is going back to how it was in the Seventies, there are meetings and even gigs happening regularly and a new B&H North East Division is set up. We have a good couple of venues and better contact now with English bands. We hope to hold another gig soon, as for the lefties, they are still there but they are nowhere now as these so called anti racist groups are loosing all their funding and you don't see many activities anymore. Most people now are seeing the multi racial mess our country is in so their policies mean nothing to Joe public anymore.

6) What were your influences to join the white musical resistance movement? Our influences go back many years, some of us have been around for years from the days of Skrewdriver, Skullhead gigs etc and I think it stemmed from there really in the North East. We believe in what we sing about so if you can play an instrument why not use that talent and start a band and get your message over that way.

7) Has the Asylum invasion infected your area of our blessed realm? The asylum seekers have come in! Especially in Newcastle you see gangs of em everywhere. The council have also earmarked sites for two Mosques to be built in the city and we hate it! We got one stopped, which is a start, but we get no say politically, we need to get rid of left wing councils, they have had it good for too long. Join a Nationalist party! Don't be complacent!

8) Are there any other bands we should be watching from the North? Yes, there is a new band to look out for and that's "Strikeforce" its just in the beginning stages at the moment but they are keen so watch this space!

9) How would you describe your music? Our music is described as aggressive, and fast n angry, but not all our songs are like that!

10) How are the Nationalistic and skinhead scenes in your areas? The Nationalist scenes are pretty spread out but the lads all know each other and come to meetings gigs etc and now more new faces are appearing so that's a good thing.

11) Are the members of Warhammer involved with any freedom fighting organisations or parties? No comment

12) What did you think of the U.S/GB invasion of Iraq and the continued loss of our soldiers' lives? At the end of the day we think its all down to Americas world police force – ZOG and our Governments bow down to U.S. policies and our lands suffer as a consequence, instead of being strong, we are being controlled by Jews; USA.

13) What are the future plans for Warhammer? The future plans for Warhammer is to record a new cd soon and to play gigs again so hopefully we will have no more mishaps.

14) Final comments closing comments? Thanks for the interview and good luck Blood & Honour for the future! See you around.
88. 14 words, Warhammer.

Blood & Honour Remembers

'Triumph of the Will' Director Dies at 101

Leni Riefenstahl, distinguished by one of the most controversial filmmaking careers for creating powerful Nazi propaganda films, died Monday night (Sept. 8) at the age of 101.

Her companion, Horst Kettner, says that she died in her sleep at her home in Poecking, a town just south of Munich, according to the AP.

As one of the first female filmmakers, Riefenstahl sought to depict beauty, leading her. Despite critical appreciation for these later photos and documentaries, Riefenstahl could never escape her reputation as a Nazi sympathizer for her films glorifying the Third Reich.

It was during this time that Riefenstahl created her most glorious film, "Triumph of the Will," (Triumph des Willens) named after the Reich Party Congress 1934 in Nuremberg which got the highest awards: The gold medal in Venice in 1935 and the gold medal at the World Exhibition in Paris in 1937..About Adolf Hitler's 1934 Nuremberg rallies, which depicted thousands of goose-stepping soldiers and captivated crowds. Riefenstahl utilized innovative filming techniques for the time, including using a moving camera and telephoto lens. Her film won several German awards and became one of the most famous propaganda films of all time.

Another of her National Socialist master piece, "Olympia," celebrated the 1936 Olympic athletes in Berlin, concentrating on the excellence Aryan athletes. That film included two parts, part I »Fest der Völker« and part 2 »Fest der Schönheit« , and also won the highest awards: the gold medal in Paris in 1937, the first price in Venice as the world's best film in 1938, the Olympic Award by the IOC in 1939, and in 1956 it was classified as one of the world's best ten films. In total, Riefenstahl completed four films commissioned by the Third Reich, all of which portrayed a specific aesthetic of power and control.

Born Helene Bertha Amalie Riefenstahl in 1902, she was the first child of Alfred Riefenstahl and Bertha Scherlach.

She broke into films as an actress after presenting herself to Arnold Fanck, known for his silent "mountain" films. She even began to write, direct and star in her own films, which included the alpine fairytale "The Blue Light."

Riefenstahl became affiliated with the Nazis after hearing Adolf Hitler speak at a 1932 rally and immediately offered her talents. Even to her death, the filmmaker refused to admit to any wrongdoing in making the propaganda films.

"I don't know what I should apologize for," she said. "I cannot apologize, for example, for having made the film 'Triumph of the Will' — it won the top prize. All my films won prizes."

After the war, Riefenstahl was arrested and briefly hospitalized in a mental institution, in a not to subtle act of retribution by the occupying powers. Although she was cleared of any charges, she was boycotted as a film director on suspicions of Nazi collaboration.

Despite every barrier put in front of her, she overcame in the years after the war and her undoubted talent silenced all the vultures picking on the National Socialist legacy. She passed away peacefully with the knowledge she had made the greatest propaganda film and testimony to the Third Reich ever made.

SS-Obersturmführer Otto Günsche

" The Faithful Aide Who Burned Hitler's Body Dies at 86"

Otto Günsche, an aide to Adolf Hitler who burned the Fuhrer's body to keep it from the advancing Soviets in the final days of World War II, has died at age 86.

An SS officer and a member of Hitler's inner circle, Otto Günsche spent the last hours with the Nazi leader in the Führer bunker in Berlin before Hitler and his wife Eva Braun committed suicide on April 30, 1945. Otto Günsche lived quietly in West Germany after the war following several years in Soviet captivity.

He died on Oct. 2 2003 of heart failure at his home in the town of Lohmar, near the former capital of Bonn.

Born Sept. 24, 1917, Günsche joined the Wehrmacht and rose to the rank of SS major, Günsche was widowed and is survived by three children. His body was cremated.

Otto Günsche said in a recent interview that Hitler personally ordered him to burn his body. When the day came, Hitler's chief of staff, Martin Bormann, tried to set the corpses of Hitler and Braun alight in the garden of the Reich chancellery in Berlin. But it was Günsche who threw a burning rag that started the fire.

Günsche then left the Reich Chancellory on the same day. To the people in his group leaving the bunker also belonged Adolf Hitler's private secretary Gerda Christian. As she reported, the breakout from the Chancellory succeeded through a tunnel of the Berlin underground metro from the Voss-Strasse to the Station on Friedrichstrasse. There the two long-time companions in Hitler's service said good-bye to one another. Otto Günsche finally fell into Soviet captivity and survived years of captivity in Russian concentration camps.

Gerda Christian escaped from Berlin into the western American zone. There she was captured by the CIA and interrogated for several days. The freeing of Günsche happened thanks to the initiative of the first post-war German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. After hard negotiations Chancellor Adenauer finally succeeded to bring back home to Germany thousands of German soldiers from captivity in the Soviet Union.

Günsche was known as a blameless young officer. There were no accusations against him personally. After regaining his freedom, Günsche became employed in the industry in West Germany. In business dealings, he was highly respected. He was known as a man of honor. Gerda Christian belonged up to her death to the circle of his friends. The former adjutant of the Führer has refused, in spite of greatest financial offers from Germany and abroad, all offers to write his own memoirs that would be critical of the National Socialist times or Hitler.

Günsche was also with Hitler when the Nazi leader survived the traitorous assassination attempt on July 20, 1944.

True to the end an honourable man who put his principles and honour before greed and lust for money, may his sole rest in peace and may he once again take his rightful place in the hall of heroes next to the leader.

The National Front

Fighting for the long-term future of Britain

A brief introduction to the policies of the National Front:

The National Front is a radical party seeking deep and fundamental changes in British society. Unlike some other radical parties and particularly those of the past, we do not seek to impose our views. Instead we seek to empower people so that they can make decisions for themselves. These decisions can then be translated into action within people's own communities.

For example, while the NF has views on education, our primary aim is to give control of schools and what is taught in them to local people, particularly parents. Similarly for industry: we seek to give working people a say in the running of larger companies, rather than being treated merely as cogs in a machine run by absent owners.

In all political decision-making we seek to give greater power to local authorities and to make them truly local. This will be done by the break-up of larger councils and authorities and giving power to smaller local community councils. The amalgamation of small local councils into giant boroughs will be reversed, so that local councils can again be responsible for local people's needs.

Our driving force is our belief that political and economic power must be given to the British people. Our political opponents seek to impose their views: we only seek to remind the British people of their heritage and warn of the dangers of creeping dictatorship. We wish to liberate our people from poverty, liberate them from an oppressive economic system and provide our children with a secure future. A future that is peaceful, prosperous and democratic in an environment that is green and pleasant.

The consistent theme of NF policy is to give real power and real democracy to the British people. There is a certain irony that while the NF can thus be seen as the most democratic political party of all; our opponents refer to us in terms that imply we are a party of dictatorship!

The NF is a party of genuine democracy which belongs to its members and whose policy is determined by its members. The NF governing body is the national directorate, which is an elected body. Elected from the ranks of the NF are a Chairman, Deputy Chairman and other national party officials. Members at the annual party conference determine the policies of the party, and unlike many other parties such decisions are binding upon the party. The same democratic principles also govern the operation of the local organisations.

Our opponents seek to entrap the British people with their self-seeking objectives. We wish to break the chains of fear, poverty and lack of hope. Our goal is to replace them with justice, prosperity and confidence in our future.

We in the National Front advocate a fairer electoral system, which includes an aspect of proportional representation. In government the NF would like to see an increase in the power of House of Commons select committees. The NF can see no virtue in the powers granted to hereditary peers by accident of birth and consequently hereditary peers will be abolished. The NF will however retain a secondary chamber as an advisory and consultative body.

The NF upholds the principle of a constitutional monarchy as this is clearly the wish of the overwhelming majority of the British people. We believe that the royal family could again become an important symbol of the nation as a family and the continuity of the nation.

The National Front will also introduce a bill of rights to guarantee certain basic freedoms and it would re-assert the sovereignty of parliament by withdrawing from the oppressive European Community. Wherever possible decision-making will be brought closer to the people, and as many decisions as possible would be made at local rather than national level.

Despite how the media and our political opponents portray us, after reading about our policies we hope that you will agree with the greater part.

We in the National Front strive only to put the interests of British people first, and to create a better future for our children.

British National Party

Making progress every day to ensure a future for British children.

May 2003 witnessed a major victory for the silent majority of Britons who have been exploited, abused and lied to for the past five decades. Since then the BNP now have 17 elected councillors, working hard on behalf of the beleaguered British majority.

The British National Party contested Abbey Green Stoke in September, and stood on the verge of winning a second seat on the council. However, Abbey Green candidate John West was eventually pushed into second place in what was a hard fought contest between the BNP who polled 32% of the vote and Labour, who won with 34%. In October the BNP fought two seats in Yorks and Lancs, and again came second and third in another two good Nationalist showings. Two council wards were fought in Nov and we are pleased to report that both the wards contested, one in Birmingham and the other in Greater Manchester which have never been contested before saw excellent results for the Nationalist candidates.

In the Birmingham seat of Stockland Green, which is nearly one third Asian, the BNP candidate, Rob Purcell, won 503 votes, which was an excellent result in the ward, whose result was determined by the Asian bloc vote.

In the Greater Manchester ward of Failsworth East the indigenous population had more grit and determination and ensured the BNP candidate achieved a comfortable second, beating the Tories and Lib-Dems convincingly.

The inauguration of the European Constitution and the EU membership of several eastern European states looms closer by the day. The constitution threatens to further denigrate Britain's sovereignty and national existence, while the introduction of countries such as Poland and Hungary to the EU will mean up to one million new migrants will be heading for Blair's land of milk and honey.

These are the perils facing our nation and the issues we need to be campaigning on. Although a BNP government would withdraw Britain from the Euro-beast, while we exist within it we should try our hardest to make the most of what advantages the EU does have to offer. These opportunities will become available next June, when elections to the European Parliament take place. However, the time to start campaigning is not with weeks and days to go — its yesterday and today!

Women For Aryan Unity

Greetings Comrades,

Throughout the year, Women for Aryan Unity runs many fundraisers to help support our Aryan prisoners, and it is time once again for our annual Aryan Prisoners Family Yuletide Fund. For those who are not yet aware of its purpose, this program allows WAU to send Yuletide gifts to Aryan children on behalf of their incarcerated parent. Our hope is to ease just a little of the pain involved with having a mother or father incarcerated, especially during the holidays

With the help of both individual racials and organizations, including various record labels, WAU's 2002 drive raised enough money to send gifts to 9 Aryan children and their mothers. In fact, the drive was so successful that we had enough extra funds to send Easter baskets to some of the children the following spring! I personally was able to hand deliver one of the Easter baskets to the daughter of an Aryan prisoner, and this beautiful girl was overjoyed that her Dad was able to send it to her. This was actually her first Easter basket from her Dad, which was made possible by the many wonderful people who made donations!

In order to raise money for our Yule Fund raffle, we need people to help out by making donations, be they monetary or prizes, and to purchase raffle tickets. Micetrap Records has already donated 14 CDs and 14 Skrewdriver DVDs, some of which will be sold and some of which will be raffled off along with donated CDs from Volksfront. Thank everyone so far for donating; we hope to be able to add to the list of raffle prizes soon!

The raffle tickets cost $3 each or 4 tickets for $10. To purchase tickets or to donate prizes or money, please contact WAU HQS for more information.. If you have access to the Volksfront, Stormfront, or White Awareness message boards, you can also send a private message to WarMaiden for more information.

Please support Aryan families in need; none of this would be possible without the support of our Folk! The women of WAU thank you.

of the mad N.S Biker

Headgear

Very many retail outlets now insist that we bikers have to remove our crash helmets before entering their shops. They think we bikers are a criminal class, come to raid them! Why then, do the same shops not proclaim that any headgear that hides the face must be removed? What of the 100,000's of Moslem women who walk British street every day, clad in face veils! Do criminal gangs already prowl our towns and cities masquerading as religious devotees?

What of the Sikh turban? Special exemption allows them to avoid wearing compulsory protective head gear on motorcycles, hardhats on building sites, them need not wear service hats in the armed forces or as police or firemen. OK, they are exempt on religious grounds, strange the Ranjit Singh, a one time fellow recruit to the British army told me that yes, he was a Sikh, and no, they do not have to wear turbans!!!

PS: Would Klansmen have recourse to claim the same dispensation to wear their hoods on the grounds of faith?

England First

The International Third Position (neither capitalist nor communist) has for a few years used the name "England First". It is effectively their party name. The leadership assures me that they do not want to stop others from using the words "England First" as a slogan or in any way that benefits the cause. This group is under the Blood and Honour banner, which is an umbrella for like minded folk. They are under attack from a new group called the "White Nationalist Party" whose leadership includes the Searchlight spy PETER RUSHTON. Recent Electoral Commission rules require political parties to register their name in order to forward candidates for elections. The WNP has registered the "England First" name as theirs. No error, as one member was expelled for objecting. The deliberate theft of the name and later the sticker design will confuse comrades....eh? who is who?

This state tactic is familiar to us within Blood and Honour. For ten years a cyber terror group (with plastic guns) has spread discord, disharmony and confusion amongst comrades worldwide. The state honey trap called C.18 has never sent one bomb or one bullet to attack ZOG. C.18 is not Blood and Honour, WNP is not "England First".

Footnote: Blood and Honour is not a para-military group, we are a white pride music organisation. We want everybody to hear the white man's music!

Ireland and island

What has perplexed me for years now is why Republican secessionist have wanted the British out of the island of Ireland, but have no problem in becoming a tiny province within the Zionist creation of the European Union (EU)? The 2500,000 inhabitants from all over Ireland that fought, and the 10,000's who died in the 1914-1918 war for Britain is testament that not all Irishmen are anti British.

Yes, European comrades, Blood and Honour is open to Irish National Socialists, but to the members or supporters of the gangsters of the Marxist IRA.

No, European comrades, the loyal British people within the British Isles, whichever island they inhabit within our geographical island group, are entitled to remain there and live in peace. It is a great shame that loyal folk have to organise to protect themselves from Republican tribal cleansing. People should be protection by the forces of state, who for years have facilitated and abandoned them. No Surrender!

The British people should no more leave Ulster than they should leave Australia, New Zealand, Canada, USA, South Africa or anywhere else. This article is written in response to many comments from European comrades that the IRA are some sort of liberation movement, that people defined as British only have the right to live in the biggest of our island group. Think of Bader-Meinhoff, think of the Red Brigades, think of ETA

At your service

Our worldwide scene is peppered with many attributes, some good and some that annoy. The perception that merchandisers are sometimes making money for themselves is alive in some minds. Music on disc, tape or vinyl, T-shirts, badges, stickers, posters, leaflets, magazines and books are all a valuable propaganda tool. All of which cost money to produce. "Services" that are set up at gigs are here because the organiser gives their permission. The products help the cause, giving us pride when listening, when reading, pride in wearing and hopefully pride in passing on the word to new sympathetic blood, who may then possibly remove themselves from the local pub, get away from the Zion vision TV set and keep our scene alive!

Please support Rampage production. Support the British Movement sales team. Support the real England First, who have a vast range of stock to satisfy all fascist tastes! Thank You.

Footnote: Tyr Services was stopped two years ago from using Blood and Honour events. They offered no credible reasons for stocking counterfeit Panzerfaust CD's. That was the reason for their expulsion.

Blood and Honour remembers 1956

23rd Oct. 2003: Blood and Honour Cultural Foundation, born two years ago, held its own Uprising Commemoration. The spokesman Endre Janos Domokos (Domi) is a very able public speaker, much seen on Hungarian T.V., always calmly answering sometimes hysterical tirades of vitriol. The service of remembrance passed off without interference from the state and was not reported in the media. On the 24th of November Domi was again on T.V. This time on a live debate about proposed hate crime laws. Of course the enemies of free speech were trotting out the usual diatribe. Shock was caused when the Blood and Honour spokesman surmised that the new laws in Hungary would result (if applied impartially) in many Jews being gaoled because they think that they are God's chosen people. The B+H Cultural Foundation is legal in Hungary and is proving less easy to push around.

Keep up the good work!

David Irving and Le Pen speak

The renowned historian David Irving has completed a very busy promotional tour of Hungary, where his book "Uprising" has finally been published in the Hungarian language. The release was timed to coincide with the annual Commemoration of the 1956 uprising, when workers and students rose up and fought against the forces of communist occupation. The main event was at Heroes square, Budapest on the 23rd of October. M.I.E.P the parliamentary Hungarian Life and Justice Party honoured David Irving by inviting him to address the 10,000 patriots gathered in the plush embassy district of the city. Jean Marie Le Pen was the next guest speaker; he warned the crowds that the E.U. will be a disastrous experience for Hungary, not least because he said that 240million immigrants are destined for the E.U. in the next few years, with 25million of those for France. This invasion sanctioned by bureaucrats of the E.U. The MIEP leader then addressed the gathering. Istvan Csurka needs his party back in parliament. They were removed at the last election because they did not reach the 5% threshold needed. The election was widely believed to have been rigged and I believe it.

Archivum News

This now defunct band is (9th Dec.) at the end of the five-year probation sentences imposed for the legendary lyrics of their songs. After spending months under provisional house arrest, night curfew, on the 11th of Nov. one band member was hauled in before a court where the judge surprised everyone. He stated that merely translating English text to Hungarian for a scene zine was not such a serious crime! My comrade was released from his curfew and the erroneous action of the probation officer is now subject to disciplinary action.

25th of Nov. and the boys are again in front of the court. With the sentences imposing a ban on their movements and political activity due to run out on the 9th of Dec. The secret police have "unearthed" a film from 19th Feb. 1999 with alleged footage of the defendants wearing balaclavas and on stage singing banned songs to an audience of high hundreds at the Viking club in Budapest. This was on the day of the Waffen SS memorial.

The drummers defense attorney asked the judge if she was a Jewess, she is not. This is a question that is still reverberating on every TV station and in every newspaper now! Indignant media coverage, was answered by the attorney saying that if the judge was French, the lyrics in question were anti-French, he would fear the sentence imposed being biased and unduly harsh. But these are anti Jewish lyrics..... The trial is adjourned until March when the video footage of the gig will then be shown in court!

Secret Police and Horses:

15th Nov. 2003: Debrecen, East Hungary, a successful gig was held, no police meddling, hence no trouble! The nations premier band "Bonded by Blood" played along side "Secret resistance" and Black Metal band "Golgoth". Debut appearance of Vádló Bitóféck, named after the book by two NS authors, Fiala and Marschalkó, which catalogues the shameful arrests, trials and murder of the great NS leaders of wartime Hungary.

22nd Nov. 2003: Kaposvár, South West Hungary: The independent NS crew in this city attempt to put on a small gig featuring "Bonded by Blood" and "Skullcrusher" from neighbouring Slovenia. This led to truly amazing state over reaction.

The day before the gig and a commando unit visit the venue, telling the owner that his place would be closed the following day. A rumour starts, widely believed to have originated with the Secret Police, that skinheads would invade the town to attack gypsies. The day of the gig and 50-60 riot police swamp the city train station. Word is put about that any skinheads seen anywhere in the city would go straight to jail. Another 150 police surround the venue, including mounted police, with swords, armed masked commandos waiting on the rooftops. The police ignored Gypsy gangs, armed and roaming about looking for skinheads. The disgrace waste of taxpayers money in Kaposvár, to stop an honourable people from listening to patriotic music is in marked contrast to their pitiful attempts to check the gangland activities of crime lords.....

The secret police are too busy harassing decent folk

SECTION 88 INTERVIEW

Q. Please can you tell us when, why and where the band was formed?

A. The band was formed in 1993 because there weren't any bands in the Kent area at the time with right wing views.

Q. Can you give a short history of the band?

A. The band was formed by Steve in 93, but due to lack of commitment by other band members we never really got off the ground. The band reformed again in 2001 with Steve, Mick, Jay and Matt.

Q. What does your name mean?

A. The name speaks for itself as in Section 88 two H's of the alphabet HEIL HITLER!!

Q. What is the current line up?

A. The line up of the band is... Mick vocals, Shaz bass, Paul Drums, Will guitar and Fraser from Warhammer has just joined the band as a second guitarist, which will make our sound a lot more powerful, which we are all looking forward to.

Q. Has it changed a lot?

A. The original line up has changed completely apart from Mick on vocals, Steve left the band which prompted Matt and Jay to go off and do other things, which we wish them good luck with, so Will got together with Mick, then came along Shaz and Paul and finally Fraser.

Q. Have you played many concerts, if so with which other bands, any foreign gigs?

A. All in all I think we've played about a dozen gigs to date with bands such as Brutal Attack, Eye of Odin, Celtic Warrior, White Law and Warhammer etc. We have also played Germany and Finland where we really had a good time and hope to play there again.

Q. Could you tell us about your musical releases.

A. We have two tracks on the Voice of Britain vol 2 cd which has just been released.

Q. Any new recordings?

A. We have finished recording our 1st cd which will be released anytime on Rampage Productions, titled BRITISH BOOT BOYS.

Q. How would you describe your sound?

A. We would describe our sound as pure energetic Oi! With a clear racial message.

Q. Which other bands have inspired your sound?

A. The bands that have inspired our sound were bands such as Condemned 84, 4 skins, Skrewdriver and Brutal Attack etc, but every band member has their own favourite bands.

Q. What are your musical influences?

A. Our influences are the bands mentioned above, as for the songs we sing about what we feel and believe- race, loyalism, heritage etc.

Q. Do you as a band get much trouble from police. Reds, media etc.?

A. We had one gig cancelled by police in Germany, Reds - no none to date but they have pretty inactive for a couple of years now, press - no none and we wouldn't speak to the scum anyway.

Q. Are you actively supporting any political parties, groups?

A. We give our support to all white racial groups that are truly fighting for our survival, the main ones being Blood and Honour, British Movement, Hammerskins and the National Front.

Q. How do you see B&H progressing ?

A. The Blood and Honour scene seems to be steadily growing all the time plus the gigs are getting more frequent which is a good sign.

Q. Do some of you also play in other bands, if so which ones?

A. Will plays in Crusade and also Pureblood, Paul sometimes helps Celtic Warrior with gigs abroad.

Q. Any final comments?

A. Yeah, we would like to thank B&H for the interview, plus Rampage for all the help and production of our cd and everyone who has took the time to come and watch us play and supported us over the last year or so, cheers 88

Q. How can we contact the band?

A. You can contact us through B&H. UK or email us on skinhead_heart@hotmail.com

Q. What other merchandise do you have available?

A. We have no t-shirts etc at present but we are working on it, but our cd should hopefully be released as you read this. 88

B&H Romania: everything here has returned more or less too normal. Some people left the scene because of the new laws, so now we count fewer numbers, but we think this is the best line-up so far, because only the die-hard racialsists kept on, hence no weak links that can bring us down. We still cannot disclose our national-socialist beliefs so we have to be very careful with what we post in our magazine. We do still openly use the title B&H but with much care so that we avoid the law.

We have recently released our 4th issue of our magazine and also a tape and CD featuring great tracks from Dutch band Brigade M. Also, we have been able to put our site back online: <http://www.bhromania.net>

There s nothing more worthwhile reporting, except that we re preparing to release an English language magazine for early next year, in which we ll present our events starting December 2001 til present time, and other much interesting features. I ll let you know when. Before that, we ll most likely travel to Kiev in December for the Kolovrat festival. Hail the Brotherhood!

Veneto Front Skinheads: Our ISD Memorial was a great success. The venue was near the last Return of Camelot and was attended by 500 comrades. Warlord headlined with an excellent set that sent shivers down the spines of everyone there, Provos 18 a new local band, Ultima Frontiera and Gesta Bellica also played. Good wines helped the evening along, rivers of beer and a big barbecue.

Politically VFS has been very active as well; we have started our campaign to abolish law 205, all the city has been covered with stickers, slogans and posters and in late November we organised a very successful public debate on the issue, which brought praise from many high ranking Italian citizens and politicians...an unexpected success. In late August the VFS also sent numerous comrades to march with our German comrades for the memory of Rudolf Hess.

New tactics from Germany - Der Nationale Beobachter / The National Observer . There are many Zines and Magazines you only can get with being part of the scene, but to awake our people we have to break out from the corner that our government is trying to keep us. We are trying to address this with a nation wide project. Free of charge (financed only by donations), independent and everywhere, The Nationale Beobachter (NB), national observer in English language, is to be a regional information paper that is to be published in regularly. The purpose of the NB is to inform about historical and current actions from the each comrades respective area. As well as regional information national subjects will be main contents of the NB. So you will find historical topics, up to date events, dates of demonstrations and marches, customs and much more. The aim is to build a close network with the NB. As soon as possible in every big city, town or area there must be an effort to publish a NB to inform about the above named topics. The NB is to be handed out by honorary comrades.....any help (distribution, donations or articles) are always welcome. So start it in your area and support this new way to free our nations!

Petersburg Skinhead Leader Arrested (October 30, 2003): Policemen from a special local unit formed to combat extremist groups arrested a top skinhead leader in St. Petersburg, according to the October 28, 2003 edition of the St. Petersburg edition of the national daily Kommersant. Twenty-one year old Aleksey Madyunin of the St. Petersburg suburb Petrodvorets was charged with hooliganism, along with an unspecified number of his followers, in connection with a March 2003 attack on an Armenian near the Pushkin Theater. He is suspected of being a leader of the Schultz-88 skinhead gang. In addition, Mr. Madyunin may be charged with a hate crime under Article 282 of the Criminal Code, because police found anti-Semitic literature in their headquarters. Police describes the Schultz-88 gang as a group dedicated to fighting against Jews and people from the Caucasus.

One Nation: the founder and leader of the Australian One Nation party has had her three-year prison sentence quashed. Sentenced in July for so called electoral fraud (or re read as political reasons), in a show trial and sentence even her enemies thought absurdly harsh, was quashed by the Queensland Appeals Court.

Big Brother s watching you: the English are the most surveilled people in the world. With less than one-quarter of America s population, Britain has nearly three million surveillance cameras in the country 10 percent of the world s total. Increasingly, the data from these cameras are being pooled...Terrorism consultant Dr. Magnus Ranstorp said, Some of those cameras are extraordinarily sophisticated, they have facial recognition, pre-programmed is actually faces of criminals (& Patriots??) so that the computer will identify individuals who are wanted by the authorities.

All Hail Landser!

So in a new onslaught against the musical resistance the German state, played by its American and Israeli puppet masters have finally sentenced the German freedom fighting band and our good comrades Landser, in a scenario with many similarities to the fit up Nuremberg trials .

In the first case of its kind in Germany, which is ominous for all over Europe, a rock band has been deemed a criminal organisation and its alleged lead singer sentenced to more than three years in prison for lyrics that venerate Nazism and incite racial hatred .

The band s bass player, and its drummer, were sentenced to nearly two years probation and ordered to perform 90 hours of community service.

An appeal has been immediately lodged, and we wish the crazy head and all others still to be sentenced in connection with this farcical trial our heartfelt best. In the words of a great man Together we will win!

Free Ernst Zundel Rally - November 23, 2003

Ernst Zundel political prisoner "for telling the truth and defending the rights of the German people."

Ernst Zundel is being held in a Canadian prison, the authorities wish to send him back to Germany to face "Holocaust denial" charges. In Toronto, 11/03. The largest free speech demonstration yet called forcefully for the immediate release of political prisoner Ernst Zundel after more than nine months of detention. Protesting outside the Metro West Detention Centre in Rexdale in the northwest end of Toronto, over 65 supporters of free speech rallied from points around Ontario; including. London, Hamilton, Sudbury, Mississauga and Toronto.

Canada's Security and Intelligence Service (CSIS) has declared Mr. Zundel a terrorist, a 'threat to national security'. "Even though Ernst Zundel is a lifelong pacifist. He's been assaulted. He's had his home firebombed; he's been sent bombs through the mail. Yet, he's always told his followers and supporters to be peaceful, to be non-violent.

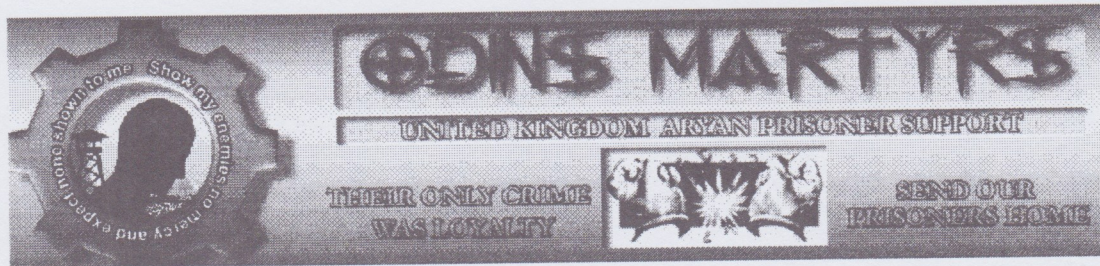

He is now into the tenth day of a bail hearing. He's complied fully with 11 previous bails, including ones that gagged him for nine years. Mr. Zundel believes in fighting through the courts. Ernst Zundel is being kept in solitary confinement solely because his views displease extremely politically powerful minorities in Canada.

Mr. Zundel is non-violent. He has never been convicted of a crime. He has supporters prepared to put up bail. He is no threat to flight. Mr. Zundel should be released on bail. His continued detention is proof that the Canadian state seeks to break him and get him to agree to deportation to Germany, which wants to jail him for five years for insulting the memory of the dead which, in the arcane language of the German courts, means disbelieving in the standard Hollywood account of WW II.

We demand freedom for Ernst Zundel. Contribute to Ernst Zundel's Defense!

Please send your donation directly to:

Ingrid Zundel, 3152 Parkway #13, PMB109, Pigeon Forge, TN, 37863, USA.

Odins Martyr's came from an idea that formulated whilst I was sat in my jail cell contemplating the plight of the Nationalist/National Socialist prisoner. (we make no distinctions at Odins Martyr's, we do not care what Right Wing political party or group you have membership of or affiliations to). From personal experience I soon discovered that people have trouble finding out what jail you are in, what your prison number is, infact some dont even realise that you are in jail at all. Hopefully this site will help inform our kinsmen and women of the whereabouts of our jailed comrades, freinds and family.

We aim not only to show support to our jailed kinsmen but also to their families, who struggle hard to make ends meet and get to see their loved ones for vists. Even though it is Home Office Policy to locate you as close to home as possible to maintain family ties, this is very often not the case in practice, with prisoners (especially 'nationalist ones') being located hundreds of miles from home. In these times of hardship and mixed emotions it would be comforting to know that you are not forgotten by those on the 'out' who can spare a couple of hours a month to write to you and your family.

Our future aims include the financial aid of both prisoner and family, just a little money to help out towards Bills, Birthdays and Yuletide festivities. From small presents for the children to a new pair of socks for the prisoner (don't laugh, you wouldn't believe how good a new pair of socks that aren't prison issue feel!). We realise that this is a few years down the line, but with your help it can and will happen. We also aim to be able to provide 'Assisted Visits' to the families. This would involve volunteers from the home towns/surrounding area's who are car owners to physically take the family to the jail, no matter how far away it is, with all costs reimbursed by Odins Martyrs. All we would ask is for the driver to give up a few hours of Their time. A visit means so much when you're locked away surrounded by people you would never dream of associating with.

We at Odins Martyr's feel that more and more of our Kinfolk will fall foul of the forces of 'law and order' and will need our support. We hope to grow over the coming years, and plan to branch out to the rest of Europe as a true European Aryan Prisoner Support Group.

If you have any suggestions as to how we can achieve our goals, or wish to know how you can become involved, If you have any fund raising ideas, t-shirt designs, in fact anything you feel may be of use then please contact me. Odins_martyrs@hotmail.com

The website is undergoing changes at the moment, moving servers thanks to a great offer of free hosting from Blood and Honour Slovenia.

Blue Eyed Devils

A Hip Hop band wanted to use an image of the Twin Towers being attacked on the cover of their CD but they got scared and didn't do it. You used a photo of the 9-11 attacks on the cover of the ...IT Ends CD. Have you gotten any criticism for that?

I, personally, haven't gotten too much heat for the cover of the CD. I think some of the other band members have had acquaintances say something to them. If people don't agree with it, they just shake their head in disbelief. In any case, I really don't care what people think. Those that think correctly will understand why that is the cover of the CD. Those that are ignorant will think it is terrible, and that's fine by me. I do what I think is correct, and I don't care what anyone else says.

Why did you use that image and what is the view of Blue Eyed Devils as to why the U.S. was really attacked?

I used that image because it represents the demise of this whole system. This system is corrupt and diseased, and the title song "It Ends" gives a perfect summary of our feelings towards this system. That picture is the visual account of what the lyrics in the song are about. As for the attack itself, of course I have heard all the rumors about who did it, why it was done, and so on. Really, I don't care why or who did it as much as I care that it was just done, and what that action represents. It shows that actions by few can affect many, and that the system is not an invincible fortress...it has weaknesses and it can fall. Also, as the lyrics state, all things come to an end. This whole corrupt society and its laws will end...it is a natural process, and history shows this. Whether we, as a people, will be better off afterward remains to be seen. However, I sleep well at night knowing that nature is cyclic, and that this system will destroy itself.

Europe and the rest of the world seem to have a vastly different perception of the 9-11 attacks and the U.S. war against Iraq than the view promoted exclusively by America and Israel. Why do you think that is?

Jewish media, of course. Although it exists in other countries as well, it is not as prevalent as it is here in America. We all know who runs this society, and who controls the public. It's so funny to see stupid Americans duped by these people. But, I guess the strong survive. If our race, as a whole, is strong and smart, then it will survive...otherwise it is condemned to extinction. Nature's law.

How many trips has the band made to Europe and what are some of the more memorable experiences you guys have had there?

Wow...it's hard to remember how many shows we've done in Europe. It's not that much, but I guess we've been over there 5 times or so. It's always fun to go to Europe...no rules for us in Europe, haha. Memorable things: Largest WP concert ever (2500 people, in Germany), playing in a barn in Sweden while the cops are arresting people for Sieg Heiling during our set, non-whites getting viciously attacked, meeting many pretty girls, meeting my future wife, meeting massive Uwe from Proissenheads, seeing whores on the back roads of Czech Republic, and just playing shows in the different countries and having good times and good laughs with friends.

Who are some of the European bands you have played with?

Forgive me for not remembering all the bands we've play with in Europe. I have a terrible memory, but I can name a few: Nimord (Hungary), Landser, Konkwista 88, Kraftschlag, Utima Ratio, Brainwash...

Any future gigs planned for there?

We're playing our last show as B.E.D. this week in Austria. After that, B.E.D. will stop to play shows, and we will not record any more music under that name. We are reforming the band, and we will begin to play shows and write new music under the name TEARDOWN. We have our first show scheduled for January in the USA, organized by the Keystone State Skinheads, with Final War and Those Opposed.

What is the next B.E.D project?

Like I mentioned in the previous question, we are reforming the band under a new name, called TEARDOWN, and we will begin to write music and play shows as this band. The reason for this is very simple: the original drummer Ryan left the band after we recorded our last CD "It Ends", and I do not want to continue to play as BED without him. He was a huge part in making BED what it was, and it cannot be the same without him. We hope to release a demo CD of our new band within a couple months. For those interested, it will be available through Final Stand Records at little or no cost (just for postage). See www.finalstandrecords.com for more information on this project.

Is there anything to the rumors that some members of the band may be pursuing other projects/directions besides B.E.D? Will B.E.D continue?

See previous questions.

Are you guys big readers and if so what books are you currently working on?

Drew used to read a lot. I'm not sure how much he reads nowadays. I know he used to read a lot because he is very anti-television. So, if a person doesn't watch TV, it gives them a lot of free time to do other things, like read and be social. As for me, I constantly must read, but it is more for work/school than for personal pleasure. I read a lot of WP/NS material when I was younger, so I don't read books like that anymore. Also, I used to read a lot of philosophy, but I haven't had time to do that lately either. The stuff I read these days is much more technical. As for the other 2 members, I don't think they read at all, except for the occasional gun or porno magazine.

What is the American scene doing wrong that we attract so much fewer people to gigs compared to smaller European countries?

The problem isn't as much as that we are doing things wrong, as much as it is that ZOG is doing everything right. Like I said, they can easily control the masses and brainwash the public into thinking what we stand for is wrong. So, people shy away from our scene. But, in my honest opinion, we have break lose from a solely skinhead oriented scene. As times change, so must we. We have to adapt to survive, or die out. I mean, who cares much these days about being the perfect "skinhead"? I am who I am, and all I care about is that I have my beliefs, and I respect others believe like me, whether his head is shaved or not. So, I think we have to get with the times and progress onward and outward. Get everyone involved with the WP music scene. That's why I'm really happy to see so many different styles of music these days. 10 years ago it was all RAC. Now it's Hatecore, Metal, Goth, punk, country, as well as RAC. Fucking great.

You have started Final Stand Records. Do you want to do different things with F.S.R. than you did with Tri-State Terror? What are some of the projects F.S.R. has produced so far and what is coming up? What is the website and e-mail address Final Stand Records can be reached at?

Well, I didn't do TST, so there really isn't a big carry over from that. Ryan (Drummer of BED, NT) started and ran TST until he shut it down a few years ago. However, since we are very much alike in our thinking, I'm sure FSR will seem similar to TST. Perhaps the main thing I want to do with FSR that is similar to TST is produce good quality music. Just about all of TST releases were popular and musically good and/or interesting. The overall quality and production of their releases was great, and much time and effort were put into the TST releases by Ryan. I want that same quality to be in all of the FSR releases as well. We want to put out great WP music with a great overall production. Also, in particular, I want to concentrate on putting out hatecore style bands. That is the music I like, so that is what I want to primarily promote and deal with. Besides, there are many other great labels that can do bands of other genres (like Panzerfaust and Resistance). So far FSR has released 3 titles. They are Blue Eyed Devils "it ends", S.O.L. "Warmaker", and the re-release of the B.E.D./Aggravated Assault split CD "Hatecrimes". We have a few projects lined up, including an up-and-coming hatecore band from Germany called Race Riot, and future projects from our new band TEARDOWN. People interested in Final Stand Records can visit our website at www.finalstandrecords.com. All of our contact information and available merchandise is on that webpage. Plus, there is some other good stuff, like pictures, mp3s, and so on.

What importance do you place on the role of music to provide and antidote to the degenerate lifestyles currently being pushed on American and European kids?

Well, I really don't think about the music as any type of antidote or alternative to degenerate lifestyles. I write the music as an expression of my feelings and beliefs. I suppose it is great if it happens to somehow 'grab' someone's interest and prevent them from going down the wrong path. But, I never think of myself as a 'musical terrorist' or 'musical revolutionary'. I know of bands that think of themselves as doing something great and powerful for the movement by playing music. To me, that's fucked up logic, and just petty egoism. It's a good thing that we have our own music, and don't have to look to others outside the cause for inspiration, but playing this music doesn't make a person great or righteous. It's not something to be idolized. Almost anyone can do it, so I don't think of myself or anyone else as something special. It is just a fun thing to do, and a great way to vent my feelings and frustrations.

Any final thoughts you would like to share with Blood and Honour readers?

Thanks for the interview. NS Regards to B&H all over the world, especially Europe. Thanks for all the great shows. Stand Strong.

Blood & Honour Tenth Anniversary: "Ian Stuart Memorial"

19th September 2003, Nottinghamshire, England.

FRI: STEELCAPPED STRENGTH AND STORMWOLF

SAT: JOHN - NEMESIS (BALLADS), STEELCAPPED STRENGTH, EYE OF ODIN, SECTION 88, WHITELAW, ARMCO, LEGION OF ST. GEORGE, CELTIC WARRIOR, NOIE WERTE.

The tenth anniversary of Ian Stuart's death was upon us, and the preparations for the premiere concert in the world was underway, the official "B&H ISD". I have been very privileged to attend every ISD since Ian's death, from Sheerness to Manchester and I was determined to attend this one as was anyone who had carried on with Ian's work, neither hell nor high water or the old bill were going to stop us this year!

Things began on the Thursday night our division had to play host to many nationalities Finns, Germans and Austrians making up the main stay, but we also had the odd Slovenian, American, Australian and New Zealander! The logistics of transport were immense but plans were all in place, and after a drink filled night we all awaited the redirection point that was to be released at three the following day.

The only thing all the veterans found odd was that everyone had been let through without question at airports, ferry ports, borders etc, after the massive effort the previous year to bar anyone they thought was going to the concert, this seemed strange, the previous year loads were denied entry and there was even a named witch hunt for American bands, but this year nothing!

At three the next day all was revealed, the first venue had been compromised a massive police presence were in place and B&H security and organisers were met with a solid wall of blue, but this was of no importance a second venue was in place and a second team were immediately dispatched to secure the perimeters and await the arrival of the organisers, once again our people were met by the police, (we all know who grassed this venue up and the police realised the threat and that the real resistance were coming). But plans had been in place for many months and this worst-case scenario had been allowed for, a fourth venue was in position and immediately activated, this time the police and powers to be were caught on the hop and our people quickly secured the venue for the tenth ISD, many thanks to B and the boys. Obviously the police wished everyone to be stuck roaming our nation with no gig and much loss of face to Blood & Honour in the eyes of the movement worldwide.....but it was not to be!

Our division set off at three as designated, our destination the Red Lion Heanor, Ian Stuart's second home and venue for many Skrewdriver gigs.

After a four -hour journey in which everyone travelling, from cars to mini buses showed true camaraderie and pitched in to pick up a coach load of stranded Germans, cramming them in every little space we arrived at the venue, another historic venue in skinhead folklore Deano's Bar at Jacksdale, another venue which Skrewdriver had graced many times and one that Ian had played many a ballads evening in the room upstairs which was a few miles from the fatal crash site.

The pub had a capacity for about three hundred I would guess, and large car park behind it and field attached all secluded from prying eyes, all of which were packed, a tent city had sprung up in the field and after we had a hilarious time pitching our tents in the dark, with much help from security and Flemish comrades we hit the gig! There must have been five hundred comrades present on the Friday evening, everyone was jubilant, we had done it, not the first choice venue or second or third come to that but we had made it and it would go ahead, which was the most important thing, the concert is more a symbol of our resistance than anything else and the resistance continues, the message was clear.

Due to confusion, traffic and directional changes during the day only SteelCapped Strength and Stormwolf played on the first evening, Battle Standard and Pureblood not making it and Crusade finally arrived at midnight!

The venue all though admittedly small for such a large audience bred a great party like atmosphere. SteelCapped Strength are a well accomplished band and were awesome, it was good to see Swedish comrades at a B&H gig again after years in the wilderness and Stormwolf, whom we in England have been privileged to see before, both gave their all and played to an appreciative audience rammed to the rafters, at dead on eleven the live music had to stop, the old bill had finally mobilised and were in talks with the organisers who had agreed to end live proceedings at eleven in return that we could stay the following day and evening, a small but necessary gesture to help the old bill save a little face I presume, but the merriment went on all night into the early hours.

The campsite was buzzing and it was either Finns or Russians/Estonians who made a large bon fire and many congregated around it, every second another bottle of some strange national beverage was thrust in your hand and the done thing was to have a swift swig and pass it on, soon everyone was singing and joking, language isn't a problem when your drunk it seems! I have since heard many say the Friday was the best night and the camp site the high light, it was certainly a great night all round.

The following day there was hangovers galore, more were arriving all the time and the new enthusiasm of the new arrivals was contagious, a food van on site, fish and chip shop and super market just over the road providing all your needs, a chemist round the corner sold plenty of resolve as well I'm sure.

As more arrived many were leaving to pay their respects at the crash site, as we did, after a short journey we laid a wreath and silently shared a moment of realisation that we are involved in a violent struggle in which some have given their all, this must not be forgotten behind all the merriment. The police watched everyone pay their respects at the site but let everyone be, which was good. Hail Ian Stuart! You Will Not Be Forgotten!

On our return to the venue, we were greeted with the massed ranks of the local plod, riot police in their vans and a police helicopter buzzing the campsite and venue for a couple of hours, at a cost of thousands to the local tax payer and for a few pictures and number plates, something they could have done with just the local bobby and his bike! Would they have done the same to a massed gathering of asylum seekers or Asians....no they wouldn't, they would have probably donned turbans and their proud to be Gay badges and joined in to appease, under orders from their PC superiors after promotion, but such is life in self-hating Britain 2003.

The crowd had more than doubled during the Saturday, if there was 4/500 on the Friday, Saturday doubled that easy, everywhere you walked a different language could be heard, there was no underlying feeling of mistrust or violence just a mutual respect and joyfulness it was excellent, age old national differences were put aside.

John from Nemesis kicked off the Saturday's entertainment with a heart felt ballads rendition, (sadly Nemesis are only just breaking in their new drummer), a solemn way to start and warm people up, John never lets down.

Eye of Odin kicked in next and we were really off, the Tardis like pub was solid to breaking point and Micky and the boys played a blinder, everyone knew it was going to be a night to remember! loads of death metalers present helped swell the legions of skins that watched in awe at the awesome stage show always given by Mick and Titch on guitar.

Steelcapped Strength followed and after the previous night received the reaction they deserved, the security at the front struggled as literally hundreds heaved in the dance floor to skinhead anthems old and new.

Section 88, the new boys on the block did themselves proud and kept proceedings moving with chubby Mick giving his all on vocals, probably the most hard working band in Britain this year and it shows as they have tightened and become more professional, cd soon?

Next came Whitelaw, with Benny swinging a hangman's noose all set and LSG who whipped the crowd into a wrecking frenzy, two elite outfits who I must admit I just popped in to glimpse there was no way I could force my way to the front, it was a ball inside but just as good outside, it was also 100 degrees in the pit as well, Whitelaw, historically held the now famous minutes silence and it was eerie to behold one thousand plus skinheads in a solemn moment before all hell let loose again!

I braved the packed ranks to watch Armco, an Italian outfit I had caught briefly at the Mersea Island ISD a few years earlier, and they didn't disappoint, Caio the lead singer used to sing in Peggio Amico and the musicians are all so accomplished, even though I understood little the pride and passion shone through, saluto Italia!

Celtic Warrior took the stage next, a little drizzle fell outside but no one cared, no one but the gods could stop us now, the whole place from venue to car park to campsite was electric, parties everywhere, celebrations abound. We had all travelled to celebrate Ian Stuart and his legacy and we would have our way. Brad from Celtic Warrior played a few ballads of the late great Ian himself, which really set the tone, and Billy continued with Warrior classics, the crescendo of voices reached fever pitch on Let the Battle Begin and windows creaked on the chant of "Fuck the Pope and the IRA!" as literally hundreds and hundreds chanted the Loyalist battle cry.

As a mark of respect and gratitude to the hundreds of German comrades in attendance, Noie Werte took the last call on this momentous night, I have seen them play these shores a few times but on this night they surpassed themselves, the main hall was packed solid with a hundred plus lead singers and how I wished I spoke German to join in on the choruses! Many times I had goose pimples all over as I could feel the sentiment being expressed in the air. They were magnificent and finished this concert off on the musical front it deserved.

Once again the night continued long into the small hours with all nationalities enjoying each other's company. The previous nights activities caught up with me and I left the celebrations at 2, but the sounds of revellerie could be heard way into the wee hours, finishing a great weekend on the high note it should.

On the Sunday our convoy left for the capital at around Noon, hundreds were still present and many were drinking again and all though many tents were still up a massive clear up had begun, many fond farewells were made and the long trek beckoned.

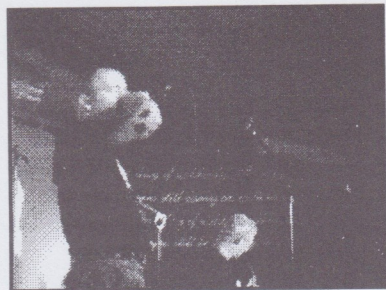

Against all the odds Blood & Honour came through once again, the fourth venue may have been a little too small inside but a small grievance when weighed against the massed ranks of foes that tried so hard to stop us. I hope every year could be like this one; I did not witness one fight or harsh word just solidarity, I truly believe everyone knew that the concert going ahead in itself was a miracle of our collective will, and the fact it was so good was just a great bonus.

The amount of varied B&H banners from around the globe and meetings held on the Saturday, would have made Ian so proud, the Brotherhood is fit and healthy and growing well, as the authorities found to their immense cost when trying to prevent the world famous ISD!

Ian Stuart Memorial Vlaanderen 2003

Stormwolf, Legion of Thor, Injustice Side, Legion of St George, Ultima Ratio and Warlord

On the 13th of september we held an Ian Stuart Memorial in Flanders. It was a special memorial, one of unity as it was organised by Blood and Honour Vlaanderen and the brotherhood Germany.

The location was an old swimming pool, transformed into a hall. Over 900 people attended this special memorial, comrades from Flanders, Germany, Great Britain, the Netherlands, Switzerland, France, Spain, Italy, Luxembourg, Portugal, Austria, etc.

There was a very good atmosphere, no fights, no aggressive behaviour, just true comrades gathered together to remember our inspirational flame...

The first band was our own Blood and Honour band from Flanders: Stormwolf! Bringing the accustomed set of RAC/Hatecore they managed to heat up the audience already. They played the entire freshly recorded debut demo with couple of songs that will be featured on their debut album, soon to be recorded!! The Landser cover they played near the end in cooperation with a German comrade, got more than half the hall singing along with them!

Next up was Legion of Thor! Massive guitars, blasting drumbeats, this band was a real killer! Playing a style that was some way different from all the other bands featured there, they still managed to get the crowd going well. A band to be remembered!

Third band was the Italian Injustice Side. A band full of energy as we are used to, with the Italians! They got the audience singing along with them and played a very powerfull set.

Next band that took the stage were our good old comrades from London, the famous Legion of St. George!! What can we say about them? As usual they played a very powerfull set, which got the crowd dancing right away. A very brilliant band to see live! And for once, the singer wasn't wearing a Ben Sherman haha

At midnight sharp, one of our German brothers came on stage and gave us a speech followed by a minute of silence for Ian Stuart and all fallen comrades. His speech sent shivers down our spines. This proves our brotherhood is the way forward towards unity!

Follow up to the Legion was German Ultima Ratio! Not only did they play their excellent setlist, they also gave us some excellent Skrewdriver covers, highly to the appreciation of the crowd! With full heart and soul they performed on this special evening.

Last but definitely not least was Warlord. What can we say? Brilliant musicians, hardcore activists with that big sense of humour... true brothers. They played like I never saw them play before giving us powerfull Warlord songs, classic Skrewdriver songs and all of it sung from the heart. Everyone was mesmerised by their powerfull play.

An excellent Ian Stuart Memorial which wasn't about the music or only about Ian Stuart but about the unity of a strong and powerfull alliance of brothers from all over Europe!

Please note the week before one of our comrades got shot outside our skinhead pub The Kastelein by 2 cowardly junkies. At this point he's still on intensive care with a bullet in his stomach. Blood and Honour donated a lot of money raised at this memorial for him and his family. Also our division donated money to a comrade whose son has cancer. We would like to state that Blood and Honour is a brotherhood that stands by its people and with this solidarity we will become bigger than we ever were before.

I.S.D. 10th Anniversary Memorial in Slovenia

One day if suddenly, I'm forced to take my leave

Will you still carry on, with the things that we believe?

One day if suddenly, they take my life away

Will you still be fighting to win a bright new day?

Ian Stuart Donaldson / Skrewdriver: Taken from the chorus of the song 'Suddenly'

Well we sure are still fighting and still believing in the never dying words of the founder of Blood & Honour!!! To prove that, we decided that we would have a special concert dedicated to his memory again this year. We already have a place for gigs here, so the only problem was to find the bands and put up a good date. We asked our mates across Europe when their concerts would be, so we wouldn't clash with any other dates. After a few days the date was set to 4th October and soon afterwards the search for the bands began. Even with the careful selection of the date we still clashed with a gig in France, but when we found out we couldn't do much about it, because a lot of things had already been arranged. After a while we got a complete line up of bands playing here: Skullcrusher, who are for now the only Slovenian band, Mannaz from Padova in Italy, Before the war from Slovakia and our guests from England Whitelaw. Now we had all the basic for the gig, but there was quite a lot left to do, which wasn't really a problem at the end, because there were a lot of helping hands around.

The gig took place in the same place as the last two concerts in an abandoned villa, which was the residence of the highest communist leader in Slovenia once (I bet he would like to see a hundred of national socialists running around his house now!). The bands were all on time for the soundcheck and the people were starting to show, so everything was going as planned. Well we had a few minor problems, as always, but we sorted them out quickly. The concert was finally able to begin!

First on the stage were the local Slovenian band Skullcrusher. They did quite a show with their energetic thrash metal style. Skullcrusher did all their old songs with 3 new ones (Battlefield, One with the land, and Mystic blood), which were very good and you can see that the band is getting better with every single show they play. Of course you couldn't miss the covers of the Midtown bootboys - Bang-Bang and V.J. - no friends of mine, which made the people on the dance floor go into a frenzy. After that, Mannaz from Italy took the stage and attacked the crowd with their style of pure Oi! music. They did a lot of songs from their CD 'L'Origine' like 'Galera', which is dedicated to all comrades in jail, 'Valori', where they sing about the true values of life and 'Hate', which speaks for itself. They made a very good and funny song dedicated to their city called 'Padova', which really put all the people in a good mood. Next on stage were Before the war from Slovakia. They have a very death/black metal style, so it was a bit too much for the Oi boys, but it brought a smile to the other people who listen more to this kind of music. They just released their first CD called 'Flames of wrath' from which they played all the songs, like Barbar/Barbarian, Bleeding world, Vek slepcov/Era of blind,... They also did a cover of the Midtown Bootboys - bang bang, so the singer of Skullcrusher climbed on the stage and did the song together with them. Finally Whitelaw came on stage. They did not have a full lineup, because a few days before the gig their bass player broke his arm in a car accident. They had to borrow the bass player from Before the war, which was pretty difficult, because the music styles are quite different. Well our fears were thrown away after the first song 'Take the salute'. They played quite a lot of songs from the old and new CD ('Take the salute' and 'We're coming for you'). It was brilliant and the pogo on the dance floor was getting really dangerous. After some of their songs like 'We're coming for you', 'Fetch the Noose' and 'Heanor' (another song about the bands town), Whitelaw asked for a minute of silence in memory of Ian Stuart. The place turned quickly silent and the hands were all raised in his memory. After that minute they played 'The drum beats for you' and it was another superb feeling to be in the crowd. The security in front of the stage had to work quite hard to stop the crowd climbing the stage. I think that the worst assault on the stage was during good old Skrewdriver covers like 'Tomorrow belongs to me' and 'Blood & Honour'. After all this we went from the stage area to have a couple of drinks before going home. But to our surprise the gig wasn't finished yet. The guys from Skullcrusher went back on the stage once again and did a couple more songs for the demanding crowd.

The whole concert was a huge success, even if there weren't as many people as there should be. Still, all the people there had a fabulous time and had an opportunity to socialize with comrades, that they don't see each day - it was especially good for the younger generation. The goal was achieved and Ian Stuart's beliefs are still alive and carried even further. It truly is a flame that never dies...!

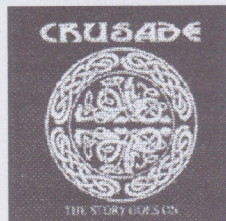

B&H Slovenia

Rock n Roll Resistance reviews

Nemesis "The Forgotten Soldier"

Twelve tracks of class as expected from this elite band from the Highlander Division, a definite step up from "It Was for Scotland" with natty sound bites and Johns vocals as outstanding as ever, I eagerly awaited this one and wasn't let down. My favourites being "Red Blood, White Skin, Blue Collar" and "300 Spartans", a great mix of ballads and rock. Released by Resistance so the cover and artwork all add to great second cd!

Crusade "The Story Goes On"

Released by Rampage one of London's new unsung heroes, and a band who justly deserve the recognition they are only just beginning to get, the third cd and another blinder, ten tracks which are all definitely from the heart some concerning family matters which are there for all to see and hear. Alistair has a great unique style and one unlike any other band gracing our scene, Tubby Will backs up admirably with his guitar work the cd is faultless and the first and title song is fantastic. The story goes on and gets better and better.

Brutal Attack/Bully Boys "Anthems With An Attitude"

Another great pairing of our Ken and American band the Bully Boys, six great tracks from each, the Bully Boys rockier (not Hardcore) than most Yanks in a very melodic sense...good stuff Battle Of The Highlands (Intro) - Jail Break - Superstar - Run Away - Underdog - Pray For Revolution - Battle Of The Highlands.

Brutal Attack deliver seven tracks of what we have come to expect and love, Britain's longest serving troopers know what we want and deliver yet again with: Avenge or Regret - In Your Eyes - My Final Vision - Kill Me Now - The Green Fields Beyond - The Same Old Story. A win double, that you just cant loose on. Another Panzerfaust gem.

Voice of Britain II

Part two of the best compilation cd set since Gods of War, seven British bands fourteen songs, from the new and familiar of our scene, for me the highlight has got to be English Rose and "Fuck the U.S.A", but Battle Standard and there deviant bashing "Evacuate Brighton" gives it a good run for the money, not a weak track...blinding, another release from Great Britains Rampage Eye of Odin: Access Denied - Father to Son, Battle Standard: Loyal We Remain - Evacuate Brighton, Section 88: Vikings in our Veins - British Bootboys, English Rose: Fuck the USA - Showdown, Crusade: It's a Raw Deal - The Only Language They Know, Pride of Wales: Freedom of Justice - Stand True, Spearhead: We're The Pride - It's not a Crime.

Section 88 "British Bootboys"

Ten tracks from the hardest working band in Britain 02/03 and well worth the wait for the debut with the all new line up. Every gig goer in GB has seen the boys and girl now and this first outinig of now familiar songs is a credit to all the practice, journeying and dedication put in by all, good old British skinhead Oi! played and sung as it should be. Personally I love 88 State and Skinheads of Europe, nine originals one classic Combat 84 cover, but Ill leave the rest up to you, out on Britains premiere label Rampage, its a must for all lovers of the resistance. British Bootboys, Wall of Lies, 88State, Vikings, Pride in our People, Loyal Ulster, Skinheads of Europe, Inner City Chaos, Poseur and This Once Great Land.

ENGLAND FIRST NEWS

INTERNATIONAL MEETINGS

TWO INTERNATIONAL meetings held in Central London a huge success for England First.

England First brought together patriots from across the greater London area for two highly successful meetings featuring guest speakers from overseas.

The first meeting, held at the end of February, featured guest speaker Ken Schmidt of the American Third Position.

As someone who has addressed many and varied patriotic conferences in America, the audience anticipated an enthralling speech - and they weren't to be disappointed!

After being warmed up by an England First speaker (see The Voice of St George #31 for abridged version of speech), Ken took the floor and had the audience spellbound as he railed against Bush's murderous schemes to advance the 'New World Order'. With a healthy smattering of humour, and by pinpointing the evil nature of the Washington DC regime, Ken was warmly received by the packed hall.

It was especially interesting to hear evidence against the American warmongering and empire-building from an American who still holds true to traditional values of freedom, the government being the servant of the people (not vice-versa) and non-intervention.

Stalls at the meeting did a brisk trade, and a collection raised £400 towards the running costs of England First.

There was also a brief report given by the England First membership secretary about new groups of activists joining England First, especially across the north of England.

THE SECOND England First meeting took place at the end of July.

This time two speeches from England First activists warmed up for the main talk by Roberto Fiore of the Italian nationalist organisation, Forza Nuova.

Needless to say, interest in this meeting was intense given the attacks on Mr. Fiore by the right-wing and left-wing media in the UK, but especially the hatred that shows in the many lurid attacks on him by "anti-racist" groups.

This was an opportunity for Nationalists to hear the truth about Forza Nuova - and to ask questions of Mr. Fiore in a 'Q&A' session after his talk.

Again, stalls in the venue did a brisk trade - with special interest in the new England First business cards.

More international meetings are planned for the future. The surest way to find out about them is to join England First - as members are sent adverts in bulletins and those who give a phone number are generally contacted prior to the meetings.

Two C60 tapes of the recent England First meeting in Central London are now available from Legion Tapes.

The topics of the speeches are:

'THE REALITY OF LIVING IN LONDON'. One family's victimisation at the hands of the authorities for failing to accept political correctness.

'A TALE OF TWO NATIONALISMS'. The difference between traditional nationalism and the libertine humanist drivel of the likes of Pim Fortuyn, and the means to advance radical, racial nationalism.

'THE HISTORY, IDEALS AND STRUGGLE OF FORZA NUOVA'. The story of the Italian nationalist movement including background, the exile of its leaders, and the victories achieved.

Followed by: a question and answer session.

Retailing at £3.30 inc. postage, these tapes are essential listening ALL NATIONALISTS - and great for introducing potential members to nationalism.

Buy two sets of the tapes for the reduced price of £5.50 inc postage.

Please send you order for the tapes to:

STICKERS

As many of you will be aware, there is a new range of stickers available.

"Anti-Bank". This one is very popular and, in very brief terms, outlines our radical stance on banks, usury, taxation and services.

Celtic Cross - Three Lions. Featuring the three lions of England on a Celtic Cross, again this sticker is proving extremely popular, especially with the slogan "Three Lions on Our Flag" (a 'take off' of the football song 'three lions on a shirt'.

Cross of St George - Three Lions. Again, returning to the popular Three Lions theme - this sticker demands recognition for St George's Day; but has been used with great success before and after the 23rd of April.

Whilst the anti-bank sticker is an excellent design for making people think, and especially in universities, in traditionally 'left wing' areas etc.; there is no doubt that the two 'Three Lions' designs have brought in the most enquiries from areas where they have been used.

It is also a fact that, because of the popular nature of the stickers, these are perfectly safe to put up in most situations – as activists in places as diverse as Central London, West Yorkshire towns and Newcastle will testify.

The stickers are all £2.75 per 100 (inc. postage in the UK) and for that you'll get half self-adhesive (peel back) and half 'lick n stick'.

Eye-catching England First business cards are also available (again for £2.75 per 100 inc. postage) and are perfect for handing to potential supporters, perhaps people you chat to in the pub, at the football, on the train etc...

LOCAL ACTIVISM

Activities have been taking place in many different regions, from "Days of Action", to activities targeting rural workers in the West Country, to activists targeting small businesses in West Yorkshire, plastering "anti-racist" rally sites with anti-Communist stickers in places such as Southampton and Halifax, getting anti-war and anti-New World Order material on TV in East Yorkshire, door-to-door paper sales taking place in Lancashire, new activist groups springing up in Cumbria, Sheffield, London, Devon and elsewhere. A new influx of activists has included B&H readers fed up of doing all the donkey work and then being verbally attacked or banned from meetings by certain right-wing Tories who are not even pretending to be racialsists any more!

Such activists have had enough of having to "hide away" whilst Negroes, homosexuals and more seem perfectly "acceptable" to some...

In a climate of increased patriotism, more people - especially grass roots nationalists - are attracted to EF's no-nonsense, populist, sensible, yet traditional racial nationalist approach; standing firm on matters of race, morality and so on.

COUNTER POWER

Whilst it is in the early stages, we are hopeful that we will soon see a big Counter Power push in England! This will enable us to take new activists and supporters to see our initiative, and show that EF believes in putting its words into action.

By offering the utilities that we will be launching to fellow nationalists, it is hoped that people such as Blood & Honour supporters will be able to take advantage of educational facilities, training facilities, extensive libraries and so on and so forth

This is just the start of a serious education programme, which we want to implement in England. Ideally, like our Spanish and Italian comrades we must start organising Nationalist 'universities' for at least one weekend during the summer. This will involve bringing speakers together (including delegates from overseas), organising a place for the 'students' to stay, organising food and refreshments and more; so, as you can see it will be no small task.

However, if we are to be serious about educating nationalist activists, expanding the nationalist cause and creating a militant base for the next 10 years, then this is something that is mandatory for us all - especially in light of creeping liberalism and jettisoning of nationalist core beliefs in some European countries.

B&H readers interested in attending future seminars, weekends etc. please get in touch.

Anyone with a trade (builder, electrician, plumber, roofer or even just a DIY buff) that might help get a property renovated and available for all sorts of nationalist activities, please do get in touch too.

This will be a real bricks and mortar initiative FOR nationalists run BY nationalists – giving us the ONLY nationalist building in the country ; a point of reference for potential nationalist supporters, training facilities for any friendly people... and so on and so forth.

In essence it will be a huge move forwards for the entire nationalist movement; something that can be utilised by the movement, train more activists and give the movement far greater depth, breadth and impact as a result.

FINAL CONFLICT NEWS www.politicalsoldier.net

1. Late last year, a speaker from Final Conflict addressed a rally of 1600 racial nationalists at Salem in Sweden, where activist an immigrant gang murdered Daniel Wretstrom. The message relayed to the European Comrades was that it is our task, our duty, to fight to make our streets safe for our children (see FC mag #31 for full report).

2. Final Conflict magazine issued a new merchandise list (#8), which is its largest ever and includes, for example, many new books on Distributism and socio-economics. Anyone interested should write to FC direct, phone or e-mail (details to follow). They also have a lot of new items such as goodies from the Spanish Falange, the German NPD, the Italian Forza Nuova, plus lots of Italian Fascist, German N.S., Vichy French and other merchandise. List #9 should be published soon as FC already has a lot of new CDs, T-Shirts, flags, books, posters, patches, stickers etc. Update list(s) available to anyone sending in a S.A.E.

3. FC now sends out a weekly merchandise update list, which details new items in stock. This update is also archived on www.politicalsoldier.net so even those with only workplace internet access can check up every few days to see what new goodies FC has in stock.

4. The FC website – www.politicalsoldier.net - is also being upgraded, and now has a shopping trolley facility and credit card ordering to enable ordering online. Credit card orders received are usually sent out first class the following day and so most UK supporters receive their mags, CDs, badges etc. within 48 hours of checking the stock with us. Worldwide supporters within 4 – 10 days.

5. The FC sticker – Fight the New World Order – is now sold out. The other ones, Socialism Kills (perfect for winding up the reds) and the 'White Power'/14 Words design are still available – the latter being especially popular amongst B&H supporters and especially unpopular with multi-racists and the politically correct!

6. FC has issued a list of football memorabilia, primarily from overseas teams with a nationalist "Ultra" following, including pendants, patches, t-shirts, sweatshirts, baseball hats.... They will also soon be stocking historical shirts from many Scottish and English league sides. If you support a team – from Rangers to West Ham – and would be interested in buying a shirt from the 30s through to the 80s, get in touch with FC now. The shirts are all made in the UK to high standards (100% cotton), available from S to XXL, and retail at £30. Overseas or UK teams – these make great presents for friends and relatives. E-mail, phone or write to FC for details.

7. FC's daily e-mail newsletter has just broken through #2300. Accompanied now by a weekend special edition, which goes more in-depth into certain subjects, this provides a great service to the entire nationalist cause. With the CD Rom accompanying each and every issue of Final Conflict, this provides enough info for even the most dedicated nethead!

8. FC #32 – just out – features lots of news, reviews, info on the enemies of racial nationalism etc... and also interviews with radical nationalist French band 'Fraction' and a fascinating interview with American professor Kevin MacDonald whose books on Jewish history, political activism and influence have taken the world by storm.

9. As well as distributing FC mag, FC is also now distributing Resistance, Blood & Honour, The Stormer and Nadsat (mag with CD); all excellent English language nationalist mags with band interviews, CD reviews etc.

10. New FC t-shirts are now available (see web-site or FC mag #32) and more goodies will soon be available: an FC enamel badge (hopefully available as this B&H is published), and more... Anyone with experience in producing promotional material who might like to help FC can always get in touch too.

11. FC's huge prize raffle took place recently and the top prize – an original painting of Corneliu Codreanu of the Legionary Movement* was won by a supporter in Ireland. All the other 74 prizes were won by people across the UK, Europe and elsewhere (list of winners available on request to anyone who bought a ticket). Thanks to everyone who took part.

* Codreanu's seminal work 'For My Legionaries' is now available in print again. A 2003 edition, published in America, is now available from FC for £9 plus postage.

12. The FC supporter who painted the first prize in our raffle is now offering to work on commissions, so if you want an original painting of Degrelle, Hess, Petain, Skorzeny, Hitler, Franco, William Joyce, A.K. Chesterton, Mosley... or any nationalist figure past (or present) get in touch with FC. As a professional artist his original commissioned work won't be cheap – but he will donate most of the money to the cause, and you will have a genuine, one-off, nationalist, family heirloom for generations to come.

Blood & Honour Scene News

Celtic Warrior: had to cancel a recent gig in Austria after being followed by the local police from the airport, there every movement was then shadowed, with a police car even spending the night outside their place of residence all night! Halls were forced to cancel and the last hall was out of reach. With the current Muslim terrorist threat to all European countries and the fact the Austrian crime rate isn't exactly zero, this seems a somewhat strange use of manpower, the gig was legal as is CW, are they telling us the bands of the resistance pose a bigger threat?

Rampage: have just released Crusade "The Story Goes On" and "Voice of Britain II", Section 88 "British Bootboys" will be out for White Christmas, and LSG, Stonehammer and Stormwolf have release dates for early 04.

Squadron: Brad and Lemmy have been in talks with Flubs about a possible reformation for a few gigs next year, fingers crossed.

Eye of Odin: sadly announced with Brads amicable departure that they will be returning under a new guise in 2004, let's all hope they have a change of mind!

Panzerfaust: are launching a magazine in the new year, and are now producing a range of skin wear available at www.panzerfaust.com

Brutal Attack: have just released their split with the Bully Boys after playing "The Gathering of the Gods" an American tribute to Ian Stuart concert. BA are scheduled to play White Christmas and have many dates all ready confirmed for 2004.

Barking Dogs: At the end of this year, we will release the new CD "Schluss mit lustig!". There will be many songs in English on it. In October BD go to the studio, to record 13 new songs. The music is hard but rock 'n' roll, so look out for it! Next year they will look forward to many live gigs. For information and news, please visit them on their homepage "www.barkingdogs.de"

Section 88: had a gig stopped by police in Germany, but that won't stop them going again! They played at this year's ISD memorial, also gigs in Newcastle with Warhammer and Whitelaw, Steve from Whitelaw stood in on Bass (cheers mate) They played a short set in the Herts area for B&H Central with Warhammer, Blue Max and Crusade. They are currently writing material for their 2nd cd.

Warhammer: from North East will be busy in the new year rehearsing for their 3rd cd which is in the pipeline. They are also going to be gigging around Europe. They have played a successful gig with Blue Max, Crusade and Section 88 in the Herts area and will also be playing the White Xmas concert.

Children Of The Reich: a new band with Dennis and the P14 drummer (Chris) have just recorded 6 songs for a mini CD entitled, "Undying Loyalty", which will be released on Imperium Records in the coming weeks. This release is full of personal and racial angst and hate!!! very Oi!/skinhead rock sounding too.

PureBlood: have consolidated their line up with Griff from Loyalty and Robin from LSG and have been busy practicing and are hoping to be gigging again early in the new year.

Platoon 14: we hope to be in the studio for our 2nd CD within the next month or so. Also, our 2nd 7" titled, "Things I Hate EP" should be out within the next 6 to 8 weeks on Imperiums. It's already been turned away from 2 pressing plants, some "freedom of speech". hopefully this 3rd plant will press our stuff.

Legion of St George: are currently recording "Out of the Rubble Comes Revenge", to be finished Dec/Jan, 13 tracks no covers, to be released on Rampage April/May 04.

Steelcapped Strength: have replaced their drummer Elvis, who quit because of personal reasons. The line up is now Puncc – drums, Bisson – guitar/backing vocals. We've made some plans to record a new cd in the beginning of next year, with both Steelcapped Strength, and Enhärjarna in the same style of music like the first album. basic rac, with a lot of skrewdriver influences! There's also a plan to make a split cd with les vilains.

Strikeforce: another N.E. B&H band are in the practicing stages and are all very keen to get started early 2004.

Kolovrat: played at "Ian Stuart Memorial - IV" in Moscow, Russia. In hall gathered 120 comrades from all over Europe, "Kolovrat" was the only performing band, the memorial gig lasted 4 hours. 4 October, "Kolovrat" played at the "Ian Stuart Memorial" in Kharkiv, Ukraine, together with "Sokyra Peruna", "Shield & Sword" (Ukraine), "Molot" (Belarus Republic), "Svarog" (Russia) and "Honor" (Poland). We are now preparing for some more gigs in Russia. The band is also recording in the studio some new songs for "White Pride World Wide Vol.6" and "Tribute to Legion88". A split CD with Portuguese band "Guarda de Ferro" will be released on a German label shortly. NS regards from Moscow!

T.M.F: Jonsey's new project are to record their first cd early 2004.

Final War: we have just released a split cd on Panzerfaust records. We have currently recorded a few songs for various comps and are currently working on a ballad cd featuring acoustic versions of old songs as well as a few new ones. After that we will begin immediately on our second full length RAC album that will most likely be entitled "A day in the life of..." It will feature around 15 songs and be out on Panzerfaust records. When we are all finished with the studio projects we will be looking to play shows so if you are interested contact us at defiance1488@yahoo.com

Loyalty: have sadly called it a day at present, although half way through recording their first cd, hopefully that will be finished, meanwhile drummer Griff has joined Pureblood.

Block11: from Italy (www.block11.com) are working on releasing their third Cd called "Europe Calls. We have played lots of gigs around Italy from the South to the North and we have played twice in Spain for B&H. our kind of music is R.A.C. from Oi to hard rock and in our last Cd there was also ballads.

Crusade: fresh on the launch of the excellent "The Story Goes On" and "Voice of Britain" tracks, have been gigging heavily and are booked up to do so well into 04, a cracking gig in South East London in November confirmed Crusade are really turning into a class act with their own power rock type style.

Path of Resistance and Moshpit: NS hardcore bands have finished recording for a 7inch split. Publication date: end 03 / beginning 04.

Nemesis: are just breaking in their new drummer and then its war again! "The Forgotten Soldier" and split Sleipnir recordings are all available now. John from Nemesis has also been busy playing his excellent ballad set around Britain and Europe, at the ISD and more recently in Spain.

Confident of Victory and Sturm & Drang: have just finished recording for a compilation, featuring Final War, Eugenik, Final Stand and others, that will come out at the end of November.

Whitelaw: along with Section 88 must be our busiest band by far in 04, and have kept this up since their fantastic showing at the ISD, also gracing the B&H Slovenia memorial, their website has now moved to <http://whitelaw.rac-usa.org/>

Nemetona: National Socialist metal will shake us with their first CD at the end of the year. 45 minutes of a thunderstorm of metallic sounds and angry lyrics. The material was collected over the last 3 years and is a kind of Best of.

Defiance: will be gigging in 04, and with past experience have much promise, news reaches us that big Will is on guitar duties.

Sleipnir: are searching for a new drummer, and working on their second cd. For more info: www.wolfszeit.net

Conquest: Steve from the band assures us, all is ready to roll, Mick is back with a bang and as soon as Andy is ready there back!!

Outlaw: will release their first cd in November entitled "Oldschool of Hate".

Brainwash (Hardcore) & Wewelsburg (Metal): both release their first offerings at the beginning of 04.

Warlord: have been very busy on the musical front playing the B&H Deutschland/Flanders Memorial and Italian memorial in September, and more recently the B&H Highlander St Andrew's Day concert in Scotland.

Might of Rage: November 9th is the scheduled date of "Out of Hand", they promise us an album of pure hatecore, in a similar vein to "When the Storm Comes Down".

Sachsenia: Dresden's local heroes have finished recording their first cd "Herzlich Wilkom men". 12 tracks and 50 minutes of pure German RAC, and will be released by BSN of Chemnitz.

Avalon: have a new line up and played their first gig in London in November to much acclaim, they also have a new web site to be found at www.avalonuk.org.uk

"Foier Freil" and "Der Panzerbär" have cooperated and produced together an ISD Tribute Magazine. 52 pages of old interviews, pics, questions to bands of today how Ian influenced their lives, gig reports etc.....all in German. Contact : panzerbaer88@web.de Brigade M: took part in a European Tour this summer and played 8 different countries during two and a half weeks. Concerts in Poland, Hungary, the Czech Republic, Slovenia, Serbia, Bulgaria, Greece and Italy were attended by 70 to 300+ nationalists from over 20 countries. In Bulgaria the band was arrested together with the 100+ B&H supporters who came to the gig. The band was released after a night of interrogation and was made to drive straight into Greece. In Hungary the band recorded a split-CD with Budapest band Fehér Törvény that should be out around Yuletide from BHS Service. Double sided tour-shirts with full-colour backside were sold for 'local' prices in the East-European countries. Before the end of the year a DVD of the tour should be released by Resistance Hellas. A long tour report will be in the next Resistance US magazine. The new 7" vinyl single will be out at the end of the year being a tribute to the nationalist squad 'De Kazerne'. This will be a gatefold and with the first 250 will be a free 24-page tourbooklet. Brigade M is currently working on some political leaflets that will be sent with every order in which we will explain our National-Revolutionary ideas and explain why we will no longer play as background for 'skinhead parties' but only as contributors to political meetings. Brigade M also contributes to the 'Boycot Lonsdale' campaign telling young people that wearing Lonsdale cloth doesn't make you a nationalist but only finances capitalists and multiculturalists. Lonsdale has launched a big campaign to clean up their name by sponsoring multi-cultural and leftist festivals. So don't be a poser, buy Nationalist goods!!!!

Oderint dum Metuant! (Let them hate, as long as they fear!)

Report Action in Diksmuide: The Ijzerbedevaartcomitee (which organises the annual Ijzerbedevaart in Diksmuide the last weekend of August) used to be a firm organisation that gathered all Flemish people together to commemorate all our fallen European brothers and to voice our will for peace and unity, no matter what political or religious background one had. Latest years the comitee however drove a more and more leftwing course which led to great disgust and dissatisfaction of the many people who annually met up there! 2 years ago it became even worse when the comitee organised a big multicultural festival "for peace..." on the sacred soil under the Ijzertoren!! Spontaneously, a couple of radical Flemish met up there with Flemish Lion banners, which got the organisers very angry!

This year, this multicultural crap was planned AGAIN with musicians as: Geoffrey Oryema, Will Tura and the Congolese choir Sangaly, Goran Bregovic, Canela Y Cana, Willem Vermandere (traitor to the Flemish cause, the rest you can already guess what they were by reading the very names I guess) and many more, supposed to give out a show. However, when last years protest action was more or less a thing of the moment, this year some organisations (amongst which of course our very B&H Vlaanderen) got their heads together to get out with a big symbolical action to cry out our outrage towards this multicultural happening! Together with Green-Right movement and World Church of the Creator Vlaanderen we united under de banner of the newly found DeVlag (which took it's name taken from the famous radical German Flemish Actiongroup around WW2) and way before the concert was supposed to begin, all militants already assembled at the meetingpoint. Around the time the festival was about to start, everyone urged himself towards the entrance and formed a double line with Flemish Lion banners. People that passed through were handed our little Flemish Lion banners, especially to the younger ones since it is important that our youth knows the true meaning of the Tower and the soil they set foot upon: a pilgrimage for people that strive for Flemish identity instead of a multicultural party where rastafarians and junkies degenerate our heritage! With this action DeVlag proved that it can mobilise in a simple manner a severe number of radical militants willing to stand up for what they believe in!" DIKSMUIDE FLEMISH was the message that day and was very well spread!

Blood & Honour Canada: Greetings from Vinland. As the season of Autumn returns nature unto itself (if I may quote from the Odinic Rite "a kind of natures 'Ragnaroc') we find ourselves bringing to a close another year. Hear in Canada, we expect a good cold winter and with that, many get-togethers by like minded Folk. Over the past few months there has been many gatherings of different groups to try and put on more gigs. With events still in the air we have but only one gig to review, a group in Austria going under a B&H banner held a fairly successful gig, about a 1,000 people gathered on a farm to see bands such as Bully Boys, Noie Werte, Stonehammer and Endstufe. There were no problems at the gig; everyone seemed to enjoy them selves. I, for one was very happy to have had the opportunity to visit with Scott from Bully-Boys, we haven't had a pint with him in about 7 years! It was a real treat Brother! Austria was very nice, we enjoyed the sites and meeting the good folk, and made sure we avoided the bad ones. There customs are very different from ours, it was a good learning experience for us all. As far as band news, Stonehammer are back at it, writing new material for a new CD, hopefully on Rampage from the UK. It would mark the first time they have been on any British label, and they are all very excited! We wish everyone the best over the Yule Tide, & we look forward to a Victorious New Year!For Blood & Honour

Croatian: As this is first time that Croatian WP movement is represented, we can't start this without a little overview of our history. Croats came to today's place in 6th century, and already in 925 they had founded their kingdom, which is one of the first European national homogeny empires. Through the centuries we fought for our freedom and for the freedom of Europe against Arabs, Mongols, Turks, Tatars and others. During the World War 2 Croats were also involved in the fight against the red beast on the eastern front and they were the only non German soldiers that had the honour of entering inside the city of Stalingrad. The end of WW2 had bad consequences for our nation because the communist regime committed many atrocities on the people who fought for our country like the one on the field of Bleiburg. Also our country was divided and still is because Bosnia and Herzegovina were always part of our country.

That's the history on which we are always proud and we'll stay proud of it forever. If we look at present day Croatia, we see a country with about 4 and half million people. People who won a bloody war for independence ten years ago against communism. Because of that war for freedom we have a great number of patriots and nationalists in Croatia today, but negative result of war is that many of them are just chauvinists. If we look at the so-called right wing parties in Croatia, all we can see are parties of chauvinists and clowns. As you have probably seen from the newspapers and media. Lately, Croatia has been badly represented in a political way, because of us "not cooperating" with international war crime court in the Hague. Especially because of general Ante Gotovina, who is accused for defending our country, and who is now a fugitive because he doesn't want to be judged by an international court, which is nothing more than a Zionist creation. The same shit is happening here, soon we will be made to feel ashamed because we defended our country.

The skinhead scene in Croatia started about ten years ago in Pula and Zagreb, but really no one did anything until the band H8 from Zagreb recorded a demo CD called "Crusade For Freedom" They played Hate Core and played a few gigs few gigs outside of Croatia. Unfortunately all the time those people were nothing but chauvinists and their main thoughts were of soccer hooliganism and hatred towards Serbs, so they didn't care much about real NS. The band doesn't exist any more and they are not part of the scene here any more. Little contribution to the scene was given by the guys from Pula who organized meetings with comrades from Germany (Wurtemberg) and Italy (Varese). Also they organised two concerts, the first in Zagreb where H8, Sleipnir, Injustice Side and a Hungarian band were supposed to play. But it was cancelled because of ZOG intervention. Another was planned in Pula with only H8 to play, but this time it failed because of bad organization, that was about two years ago.

In April 2002 we started our webzine Crusader (www.hrcrusader.net) which is today we can frankly say one of the better non commercial WP sites world wide. Last year we also started with publishing our fanzine "Patriotic Voice". Recently we finished the second issue. We are very proud of it because we don't translate articles by others; all the texts are products of our creativity. I would like to use this chance to thank Ed from Bound for Glory who wrote the article "Memory of Eric Banks" for us.

Currently our comrades from Pula are planning to organize a ballads evening, and it would be first live WP event in Croatia. Hopefully everything will work out fine. We have strong connections with those comrades in Pula and together with them we are working on some WP material like t-shirts, patches, lighters and others. Also we are often at gigs and meetings in our neighborhood, Italy and Slovenia, and one of our comrades from Pula carried our flag on the Rudolf Hess Memorial March in Wunsdiel this year. We know that those things are little bit funny compared to achievement of other countries. But you all must know that our scene is still just beginning, as you say, it's still in the cradle. All of us are young and financially weak, but the fact is that the national-socialist movement is becoming stronger every day in Croatia and there are more and more national socialists who are ready to dedicate their lives to the cause. Our aim today is to organize ourselves in the best way possible and build a strong scene that would be welcomed into the ranks of the Blood and Honour movement. Then alongside our brothers all across the white world continue the fight for our great race against the evils of communism and Zionism. Unfortunately, there is no WP band today in Croatia, but I hope that soon we will have the opportunity to see gigs with our own bands. There are some bands that play pagan metal but they don't openly declare themselves as WP. What we will say in conclusion is that there is just one way to win. That is to work and just work, and I must say that here in Croatia we are damn hard workers.

B&H Australia news: September 20th, a new venue saw B&H Australia commemorate the 10 years since Ian Stuart Donaldson's passing and show that the idea he originally conceived is still strong as ever. This was a well organised gig and in an excellent venue. This time people came out of the woodwork to show their supporter and a crowd over 100 was drawn Australia wide and from overseas which was good to see indeed. A wide array of merchandise was on offer from B&H in conjunction with Women of Aryan Unity and Southern Cross Hammerskins including CDs, Shirts (men's and women's), badges, magazines etc. Also a visiting member of the German NPD party donated us a party flag which will be displayed at future events showing our respect/support for our brothers in Deutschland.

The nights line up included five bands starting with Ravenous who played a very solid set and even a couple of Skrewdriver covers to warm up the crowd. Blood Red Eagle then took to the stage for their second Melbourne gig coming all the way from Newcastle (New South Wales) which went down well with the mainly Melbourne crowd. Third band up was Bail Up who received a very warm welcome playing quite possibly one of their best sets here yet! Deaths Head came on for their first set since returning from their recent and successful tour of Europe and played to a crowd that was by now somewhat cheerful which guaranteed had nothing to do with the vast quantities of alcohol being consumed. Last but not least was Fortress who played an absolutely smashing gig putting it all in for the occasion. They played a couple of classic anthems including I hate commie scum, Hail rock n roll and a fine rendition of Skrewdriver's Blood and Honour which got the crowd working! A minutes silence was held during their set in honour of the man who is and always will be Blood and Honour. Apart from some minor and very unnecessary trouble the night was a great success and very enjoyable for those who made the effort to travel as far as many did to get there. Hail Ian Stuart gone but never forgotten.

The year has also seen its fair share of Red activity which has seen B&H as its main target of a hate smear campaign by groups such as "all people equal", "anarchy against bigotry", "angry at racists" and several others. These campaigns have proved largely ineffective and despite a few leaflets around the city and some misspelled graffiti on pub wall nothing serious has taken place. The reds have made no progress in shutting down B&H or stopping our functions. I am also happy to say that on two separate occasions in the city supporters of the red skins were confronted and soundly beaten and humiliated. Both times proving once again that "we're still strong and the flag still flies!"

Finland reports: 4th of October it was time for an annual ISD memorial concert in Finland. The bands performing this year were Mistreat, P.W.A., and Brutal Attack. It was the first time in a couple of years that we organized a gig in Helsinki City central. The venue was, believe it or not, a nice idyllic riverboat that also works as a nightclub on normal weekends. The same kind of boat that the Londoners are used to see at Embankment. It was the perfect sized for our occasion. Even Ken McLellan said before the gig that this got to be the coolest place they've ever played at, and that's a lot said from a man who's been gigging over twenty years. We had booked also the upstairs for the bands and for the security and there was food for twenty people, a kind of a backstage. Mistreat started the set about at 10 PM. They played fabulous as usual. They got the whole crowd going nuts with their tight set. They had also renewed their set, so that a lot of Finns who's seen them playing for ten years was also very much into their new stuff. They are going to the studio to record a new album later on this year and they were running in a lot of their new songs. And for those who like Mistreats music, I can honestly tell to wait for a good one out. Next one up on the stage was an Estonian P.W.A. They have also come a long way since their debut album and played a brilliant gig, even when their line-up wasn't totally complete for the show. They have started to play rather regularly in Finland and people start to know their catchy songs and even if you haven't heard them before, you're gonna be surprised how good they are.

The last, but not least was the mighty Brutal Attack, who started their set easily with the song Embers of yesterday. It was clear that a lot of the crowd showed up for this band. Last time BA played in Finland was seven years ago and they have been probably the most wanted band since that. Their bass player couldn't make it so Muke from Mistreat took his place and played like the professionals usually, with no mistakes. BA had a set that included the hits throughout their history. Songs like Let it burn, White pride, white passion, R.A.C. and Under the hammer was heard as well as their newer material like Blind fury and Heroes. Of course not to forget the reason why the whole event was put up for, to honour the memory of a great man who's now gone from here to eternity... Before the song always near we had one-minute silence for Ian Stuart. Brad who plays the guitar also sang a couple of Skrewdriver cover songs, like Old Albion and House of treason. You see nothing but the brilliant gigs from these kind of old veterans like Brutal Attack. Terrific show once again that ended up to the song Alright now. The only problem during their set was that there was some kind of problems with the PA system and during half way of their show, Ken's vocals faded a way a bit but that didn't seem to matter the audience a bit. This great band is always more than welcome to Finland. If not earlier, then perhaps in seven years time, haha!

Like I mentioned earlier, this was the first gig in many years that we had in the Helsinki City central. And it went totally without any problems... No reds, no cops storming in, no problems. Another reason for them not interfere with our events where we mind our own business. There were no problems at the show, but one argument about some stupid beerglass could have gone into a fight, but the security moved the troublemakers out of the premises before it got into a fight. One guy also fell down the boat's stairs and that one looked very bad. There was an ambulance to pick him up and people didn't know did he break he's neck or something like that and the rumors started to spread. But in the end it wasn't anything major, so the poor guy just missed the most of the great show and was back at home sleeping on the same night. B&H SF thanks all our comrades who made it to the great event. See you next time!! Petsku, B&H

SFB&H SF Security news... Finland's B&H security is one of the toughest security in the world. Our security has European, World and Finnish champions in weightlifting, Finnish championship medallists in boxing and wrestling plus the bad ass freefighters we have in our security ranks. They latest title holder comes from this event. 20.10.2003 our security member Niko, who's never lost a single freefighting match, won the European championship title in freefighting -80kg serie. He won the title from Valentin Siouljine from Belarus. We congratulate the new European champion!!

Blood & Honour Hellas reports: 4th Annual Manifestation of Hellenic Nationalist Youth - Live appearance of TOTAL CLEANSING / NO SURRENDER / BOILING BLOOD

Within a few months, the second biggest White Power live took place in our country, this time in Athens, during the Youth Front Manifestation of the Golden Dawn. The three Hellenic bands that participated were TOTAL CLEANSING from Piraeus, NO SURRENDER from Athens and BOILING BLOOD from Thessalonici. Of course before the gig, superbly organized by the members of the Youth Front of the Golden Dawn and B&H Hellas, there was a manifestation. Speeches, discussions about the fucking jest of "Çellenic-turkish friendship" and the miserable situation within the Greek schools with all these foreigners imposed on us, as well as videos about the EON (the Hellenic Fascist Youth during the 30s), the action of the Movement all these years and Leni Riefenstahl. All these interesting subjects were concluded with a fiery speech of GD's Leader, N. Michaloliakos. The time was 21:30 and the gig begun with TOTAL CLEANSING who have been reformed with new members in the line-up. They started with the excellent "Hero" and they continued with the tracks "Violence to Violence", "Against All", "Asshole Urbanite", "Unsaved Homelands", an instrumental track and they closed with a cover of DER STURMER's "Greater Hellas", in a Greek version, thanks to Nick who took care of the vocals. Next on stage came NO SURRENDER and with the first guitar riffs of the same-titled track, the crowd started to "boil"! They continued with "Keep Hellas White", "Burn the Parliament", "Streetfighter", "Red Lion Pub", "Hellenic Glory", "Death Sentence", "This Time the World" (NO REMORSE), the new ones "Steelcapped Hate" and "I Live to See you Dead", closing of course with the "Pappous 88". It was really a great appearance of the band! Next came BOILING BLOOD with their "transcriptions" from Athens and Piraeus. Their contact with the crowd was excellent since this band has a good experience from all their gigs till now, thus being always in shape! The only negative thing was that they played too many covers. Of course they played and their own tracks like the superb "Fatherland", "Stay Away", etc. It was really an excellent manifestation-gig! Our compliment to the organizers and...the Fight goes on till Victory. The Final Victory!

B&H Bohemia ISD Memorial Concert in Bohemia 27.9. 2003

Same as everywhere all around the White world also in Bohemia was organized tenth ISD memorial.

Place was chosen to be in northwest of our country near German borders, but because police found first venue the gig was in the end relocated to north of Bohemia. Despite police activity and articles in newspaper there were no cops and press during the concert. Concert started by one minute silence to honour our fallen Leader. Then came first band of the night on the stage - Blizzard from Bohemia. They played songs from their new cd and also some covers such as „Na Prach“ from legendary Slovakian band Kratky Proces and „Tomorrow belongs to me“ from Skrewdriver. Everybody enjoyed this RAC performance and was looking forward to some heavier stuff. After short break Slovakian WP metal band Before the War started play. Every WP metal fan must have loved this, because their music is really professional. Last band of the night was Polish band Konkwista 88. Everynoe was looking forward to their show and I must say that nobody was disappointed. They played absolutely brilliant, as they usually do. When they finished, some people left, but many people still continued drinking and talking and having fun. Attendance of the concert was quite good for our country at these times - about 350 people. Most of them were from Bohemia and Germany, but also people from Slovakia, Hungary, Poland and even England. Concert was without any problems and without any police.

Hail B&H!! 88!

British Movement

At a recent ISD weekend at Jacksdale, one of the British Movement activists manning the BM sales table was approached by a British Nationalist who picked up some copies of BM literature and said "British Movement? I thought they folded years ago" the BM activist was quick to point out that British movement is not only very much alive but is actively working towards the regeneration of British National socialism as a political force on both a national and international level. The fact of the matter is that contrary to what some believe British Movement never went away. While it is true that the movement suffered serious setbacks in the 1983 when the national chairman of the day closed the national office and effectively put the BM 'on-ice', the hard core activists and organisers refused to accept the situation and set about rebuilding the BM from scratch. Now twenty years later, the BM has lost its momentum and is working towards the goals set when re structuring began in the 1984-1985 period. Many hard lessons have been learned over the years and BM's strategy and tactics reflect those lessons. BM has put its efforts into projects and activities not immediately in the public eye, but essential elements of Project 2005, the BNSM development plan which grew out of the original project 2000, which the movement leadership laid out in 1986. The creation of an independent British Movement publishing arm, the National Socialist Press, is an on-going project, out of which has grown the BM magazine "Broadsword" which is usually sold at meetings and Blood and Honour gigs, but is also available by subscription. Creating a mass circulation and readership base for Broadsword is a key objective. BM is also working towards the establishment of a newspaper for street sales and mass distribution, the platform for this project was made by the launch last year of the free BM News sheet "the Emblem" which is a proto type for the future newspaper. The final item of literature is the very occasional booklet "Blood and Soil" which offers articles on National Socialist ideology, British folk heritage, historical facts and environmental issues. An alternative NS culture is a central thread to the BNSM strategy and the ISD weekend in Sept. 2003, is an example of how British Movement would like to develop a series of NS family weekends across the year in the mainland UK. A number of people on the British Nationalist scene have asked, when is the BM going to return to the open, public activities that it was famous for, (notorious for) in the late 70's and early 80's? well, those times are gone, times have change, and as it was said earlier in this article, hard lessons have been learned. But, BM is now at the stage where it is again raising its public profile and is starting to take its message out onto the streets. BM seeks to create an alternative society, a folkish state built on the principles of Blood and Soil, Race and Nation, Folk and Family. There can be no victory without struggle, no triumph without sacrifice; our movement does not look towards short term objectives, our targets are long term, and ultimate NS victory is the only acceptable conclusion.

Blood & Honour Gig Reviews

Saturday 15th November 2003:

Warhammer, Section 88, Blue Max and Crusade.

The town of Hitchin played host to a gig organised by the Blood and Honour Central division. The venue was a good-sized hall, which we had used before. There was the usual array of stalls selling a wide array of merchandise to suit all fascists tastes.

The turn out was a bit on the low side, as there was a few other events happening on the same night. All the same the 200 or so people still managed to make the venue seem full.

The first band on was Crusade. Al and the boy stormed through a set packed with great songs taken from their latest release The story goes on

It was then time for our German guests to take to the stage. Blue Max Play a good mixture of Oi and RAC music. The band has not long released their first CD Skinhead street rock. They played a goods set with songs in both English and their native German. Songs that stood out were Old school skinhead and Kindersch nder.

After, one of the hardest working bands around at the moment, took to the stage. Section 88 played a strong set filled with many of their by now well known songs. The crowd sang along to the usuals like Asylum seeker and a excellent cover of Rapist.

Then it was time for Warhammer to come back into the fold. This was the second gig for this band in a matter of a couple of weeks. They also have just release a new CD in the last few weeks. They played a good set. It would have been the first chance many people at the gig would have had to see this band. And Blood and Honour are pleased to welcome them back.

All in all, another successful gig for the Blood and Honour organisation. Well done to Sharon and all the others involved in its organisation.

Avalon, Stormwolf, Crusade!!

November 22nd 2004 saw Avalon return to the British stage with the help of local activists. Belgian band Stormwolf had agreed to play, as did Kent based band the mighty Crusade. A cracking venue had been lined up where what was going on, no coppers and no trouble.

Odins Martyrs and The Third Position were among stalls offering the usual goodies and we had lined up a top quality PA and backline for the bands. The intention was for this concert to be a small affair and promotion was kept to a minimum. On the night we had between 40 - 50 friends come to the concert including Benny of Whitelaw, Brad (ex Squadron), most of the Legion and members of Pureblood.

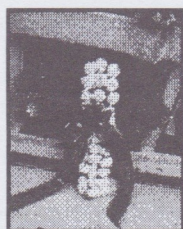

Around 2030 we decided to get things moving and took to The Pit. We started our old Anti-Nowhere League song So What which raised a few eyebrows but sections of the small crowd were soon joining in with us. We followed this with the No Remorse song Play The Winning Hand which we invited Ally of Crusade to join us to sing. A new song Just shoot Em came next, which was really well received. Other songs in our set included Our Honour Is True (which we dedicated to all the lads in Blood And Honour), One People One Leader, Don t Blame Us and Peace In Our Time. We played for about 40 minutes until our drummer decided to obliterate the kit, which was when we cut our set short.

Out came the superglue, elastic bands and six inch nails and hey presto, 10 minutes later the kit was fixed ready for Stormwolf. These guys are amazing, if you have never managed to catch this band then I suggest you to do so very quickly. Stormwolf played for close to an hour and their set included This Nations Right Hand, Ein Volk, Ein Reich, Ein Fuhrer, Wipe Out, Swastika and Hail Blood And Honour and managed to get the lads dancing a bit. Not only can this band play but they are also good people. I thank Stormwolf for playing and hope they enjoyed the hospitality extended to them. I also hope they will consider coming back to play a larger concert in the future.

Finally came the main event when Crusade took to the pit. Anyone who has witnessed this band knows what a talented outfit they have become. Songs included in their set? It would be easier to say what they didn t play. Waiting For the Backlash, Evolution and The Final Race were all included along with a few Skrewdriver covers. All in all Crusade played for just over an hour and were brilliant. I take my hat off (if I had one) to All, Will and Lemmy. A great band but also approachable people with time to talk.

We pass our thanks to the two bands who joined us and also to those who helped us stage the event. Also thanks to all those who turned up for the concert, we hope to see you again real soon. Grumpy 88.

22-NOVEMBER: FALLEN MEMORIAL (B&H SPAIN)

On the 22nd November, Blood & Honour Spain organised a ballads evening to remember our fallen comrades: Jorge, Ivan and Vanessa in the region they were from: Zaragoza, This is sadly also the region where they departed on that fatal day of November 18th 2000.

On Saturday morning, near to 100 people came from Spain, England, Scotland, Italy and Portugal and went to Zaragoza Cemetery where they rest in peace, to pay homage to them. We all went to each grave to say a few words in their honour with a silent minute for their souls and memory, before leaving flowers in their memory.

Then later on that night we had a night of patriotic ballads in a pub, in the centre of Zaragoza.

About 150 comrades in all turned up. The gig started with a minutes silence for our fallen comrades. Then the night started with our Italian comrade Dario Bressan, ex member of Topi Neri and present member of Armco, playing ballads. He played some of his own songs, some Massimo Morsello songs and he dedicated in Spanish the mythic ?~San Lorenzo ?? from Topi Neri to the fallen comrades. His set was excellent and a great way to start the night.

Next up, was our Scottish comrade John from the band Nemesis. He played own songs, mythic England songs and he dedicated a beautiful ballad our fallen comrades. His performance was magnificent. Thanks a lot for playing for B+H Espania

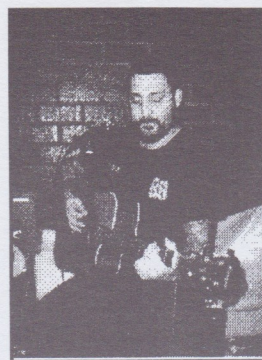

After that, our friend and comrade Bimbas from Endovelico (Portugal) played as well as always. He sang in Spanish, Portuguese, and even in English. He played Spanish songs like Estirpe Imperial, own songs and Skrewdriver songs. His set was brilliant, very good, a great way to end off the night

The night finished around 2 o'clock and just about everyone was ready to go back to the hotel for some well deserved rest. But the repressor police were waiting for us in the street outside and they identified all of us as having bad education, and violence on our minds. We were 2 hours in the street with calm and patience while the police identified all of us, they robbed our photos cameras until they made their point with the hope to convert themselves into the Best police on the year.

Thanks to all people who went to this important concert for us. Thanks to all our friends and comrades for making this memorial possible. Thanks to John, Dario and Bimbas for playing for all of us. Thanks to our friends from B+H England who support us like always.

White Christmas 2003 Concert December 20th

Strikeforce - Skullcrusher - Warhammer - Whitelaw

Its that time of year again White Christmas is upon us. Our Division met up on the Saturday afternoon and we had a good mixture of comrades from various countries, Spain, Italy, Australia, Americans and some good comrades from north of the boarder, sunny Scotland!

We set off with everybody in good spirits the beer was flowing and the conversation was rolling. We arrived at the venue, which was a very large hall with a big stage and a good size bar, at about 7.30 and the place was already starting to fill up, we all filed in, set up our stall and began catching up with comrades from all over Europe, the diverse crowds at B&H gigs is now amazing, with years of State induced infighting over everybody is once again on track and the feel of unity and togetherness is heart felt from everyone. Long may it continue.

First on stage were a new band Strikeforce from the Newcastle area, they are a young band with plenty of potential. They did about 4 or 5 numbers all of which were great, this was their first gig and they went down very well with the crowd. The N. E of England seems to be producing some great bands now and the sound of white resistance once again looks very healthy. Looking forward to seeing them in the future.

Next up were our good friends from Slovenia Skullcrusher. If you like it heavy you'll love this band. They make Motorhead sound like ballad singers! They played a tight and heavy set rolling through their numbers like pros. Thrash? Hatecore? Death Metal? Whatever it's called it went down very well with the Oi! loving skins of Blighty. Lead singer Rok is an undiscovered gem and gives a great stage show full of enthusiasm and red hot white energy, must be due to all that high octane drink that poses as alcohol in Slovenia! Much respect to all the Slovenians in attendance, a small country who have stayed true while all around them buckled from the onslaught of State lies and showed much grit to there eternal credit, many hails!

Warhammer took to the stage next, playing their first national event since returning to the Brotherhood and its good to see these boys back on the right stage. I saw them about a month ago and I thought they were good then but tonight they rocked. They rolled through most of their numbers and slipped in the odd Skrewdriver song and the crowd loved them, a welcome addition to the musical armoury of B&H and one who only seem to get better! Roll on the next cd.

Last to take the stage was Whitelaw. These boys have been around for a long time now and they work really hard playing at home and abroad and all their hard work is paying off, as they were awesome. They have their set off to a fine t now. They had the Christmas crowd dancing round the room to Take a Salute, Fetch the Noose and Tinkerbell along with some old Oi classics which helped keep the jovial Christmas atmosphere alive and kicking.

This gig was another great success for B & H England with approx 250 people in attendance. No trouble whatsoever, no interference from the good old boys in blue - well done everybody who gave their support. Forward! we march together!

Reasons To Keep On Fighting the Self Haters!

To our untrained eyes our Nation is being colonised by alien people and cultures, but we are wrong... this is integration and it is culturally enriching our lives, heritage and future. Some might say, as we do, the path our Government is leading us is on one of self destruction, but again we are wrong, lets take a second, to look at what the latest mass influx of Asylum seekers and loony Government actions have giving us, to benefit our daily struggle and make our lives better, and to confirm that the Government are indeed living in the same world as us.

Immigration: Our small island is bursting at the seams, its infrastructure disastrously overloaded, yet the Home Secretary David Blunkett (11/03), declared that there was no obvious limit on the number of immigrants we should allow to settle in the UK! The current intake of 172,000 (who are they trying to kid!!) a year was, he said permanently sustainable — essential, in fact, for the economic wellbeing of the country.

Well we say in our ignorance....Japan managed to combine zero immigration with 40 years of miraculous economic growth, smashing the so called replacement migration lie. Blunkett has given up even trying to stem the tide, the immigration system is in chaos: even Blunkett admits he doesnt really know how many people are coming in. He had to say that it doesnt matter how many people pile in here, because he doesnt want to stop them!

In another twist Blunkett now says (25/11/03) Iraqi asylum seekers should be forced to go home and rebuild their country. Thousands and thousands of Kurds living in Britain could now return safely to Northern Iraq, sounds similar to his initiative to send Afghans back home, of the 26000 we know of, he has so far managed to repatriate ...200! Talk is cheap.

Sexual Deviancy: after a long hard battle, the decent people in our Government were defeated and Clause 28 of the Local Government Act 1988 has been repealed in England and Wales. The legislation, which made it illegal for local authorities to promote homosexuality in schools, was voted out by the Commons. The sexual predators now have much to rejoice, as children can be moulded by their sick and twisted minds, it is now up to every decent parent to keep their children on the right path, how any decent society can repeal any such common sense law is just beyond belief.

A guiding light showing not all forms of Government and Education has been infiltrated by sexual deviants is Kent, the Tory council will retain the ban, due to the backing of parents and schools. Homosexuality cannot and will not be promoted as an alternative to heterosexuality.

If the Nation was given a vote on Clause 28 it would be backed by all sections of our community, begging the question who runs the Government and who exactly do they purport to represent?

Heritage: They want to abolish Sterling give away our Sovereignty to Europe without a vote or shot being fired, tried to abolish the 1,400 year old Lord Chancellorship without consultation and want to replace a shire system dating from Saxon times with a regionalism nobody wants and Francis Carpenter, who is in charge of the EU s European Investment Fund says Waterloo Station and Trafalgar Square should be renamed to avoid offending French tourists!..got the picture.

Now Whitehall proposes abolishing Order of the British Empire awards. The move is to satisfy the vocal minority who complain that imperial references are an unfortunate piece of national symbolismlord help us!

The Empire may no longer exist, but still forms an inescapable part of our British identity. And as we already suspect all forms of our national identity must be crushed!

Our Nations Health: Tuberculosis once eradicated from our shores is making a devastating comeback, the East End of London has the worst level of the disease in the West! The rise of the disease is because of an influx of foreigners from countries where TB is rife. Half of the victims in Newham, which has the highest rate in the Western world! more than the traditional TB blackspot Brazil, are we quote asylum seekers from India, Bangladesh and Pakistan. The figures come from a six month investigation by the London Assembly health committee.

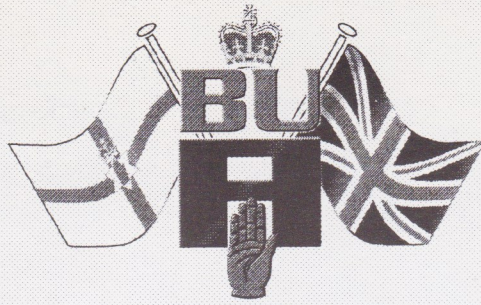

HIV, the number of HIV sufferers in Britain has soared by 20 per cent in a year and the rise is being blamed on an increase in migrants from Africa where the Aids virus is at epidemic levels., just under 50,000 people in the UK were reported to have HIV last year, up from 41,700 in 2001.

The Health Protection Agency says three quarters of new heterosexual HIV cases in Britain are due to immigration from sub Saharan Africa. Renewed calls for compulsory health checks for immigrants have fallen on our Governments deaf ears once again.

Crime: The EU s eastward expansion next year will cause an explosion in organised crime, says Europol, the European law enforcement agency. Its latest report says Eastern European criminal gangs are reorganising with expectations of a coming bonanza when the States join the EU next May. In the Baltic States, criminal gangs have lucrative rackets in a wide range of activities, including prostitution, money laundering, counterfeiting and drugs. And there most lucrative racket? and particular worry is ...yes you geussed it people smuggling!

Is it really us who are so blind and ignorant??
